Rockefeller speaks at Lab

Public dedication ceremony

LIVERMORE — Former Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller and Dr. Edward Teller, "father of the H-bomb," will be among the speakers tomorrow at the dedication of a new science facility at the Lawrence Livermore Laboratory.

Fannie and John Hertz Hall will be the new home for UC Davis students studying graduate work in engineering. Dedication ceremonies will begin for the public at 2:30.

Hertz Hall honors the late Fannie and John Hertz, founders of the Hertz Foundation which is dedicated to the promotion of education and enhancement of the defense potential of the United States.

The applied science department of UC Davis offers graduate training and research for about 100 students, using facilities on the Davis campus and at the Lawrence Livermore Laboratory.

Other speakers at tomorrow's ceremonies include Roger E. Batzel, LLL director; Allan B. Hunter, chairman of the board of the Hertz Foundation; James H. Meyer, chancellor at UC Davis; and Frederick O. Wooten, chairman of the university's science department.

Hertz Hall is located across from the LLL Visitors Center off Greenville Road north of East Avenue. A tour of the new building will follow the dedication ceremonies.

Tomorrow night, the second Fannie and John Hertz Foundation Award in the field of applied physical sciences which contribute significantly to defense will be presented to Dr. Gregory H. Canavan, a major in the Air Force.

Canavan, who will receive the award at a dinner in Pleasanton, has responsibility for the most advanced department of defense programs in visible lasers and other systems.

Philcox wins second term

Mercer elected vice-mayor

PLEASANTON — Mayor Robert Philcox was reelected for another term in his chair duties and councilmember Ken Mercer became vice-mayor, replacing Joyce LeClaire in the city council reorganization last night.

Councilmember William Herlihy abstained on both choices, but did not give a reason. He made three previous bids for mayor and was rebuffed by councilmembers.

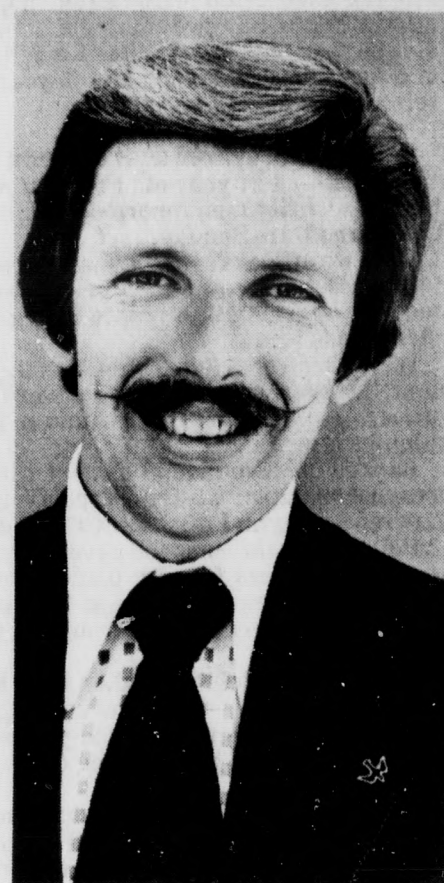

LeClaire voted "no" on Mercer's nomination by councilmember Frank Brandes, so Mercer was chosen by a bare majority of three votes, including his own and that of Philcox, who seconded the nomination.

Brandes made no nomination speech, just a simple, "I nominate Ken Mercer for vice-mayor." No one else made speeches on Mercer's election, either.

LeClaire nominated Philcox for mayor and in a brief speech said that he did an "exemplary job" as mayor over the past year.

"You have taken a leadership role in LAVWMA and done a good job there. It's important to have continuity," said LeClaire.

Philcox said he hopes to have courage in the coming year because

Mayor Robert Philcox

it will be one full of decisions, not all of them popular.

"Maybe with equanimity and courage, I can get out of this role alive," said Philcox.

In Livermore, Helen Tirsell won reelection to her second term as mayor. Marshal Kamena will serve as vice-mayor.

Tirsell won on a bare, 3-2 vote. Kamena was elected unanimously.

Hearing on conflict

The Pleasanton city attorney's office will hold a hearing on the conflict of interest codes tentatively adopted by the various city departments at 10 a.m. Friday in the City Council Chambers.

It will provide an opportunity for employees and officers of the city to make their feelings known on the codes designed to meet the requirements of the Political Reform Act of 1974. The public is invited to make comments about the codes or conflict of interest in general.

Copies of the codes to be discussed at the hearing may be reviewed that morning at the city attorney's office. There also will be a public hearing by the city council on final versions of the code at the council meeting March 28.

Kits save water

Water conservation kits are available free of charge to all Dublin residents and merchants, courtesy of the Valley Community Services District.

The kits may be obtained at the VCSA general office, 7051 Dublin Blvd., VCSA fire station number one at 7494 Donohue in Dublin and Shannon Community Center, 11600 Shannon Ave., Dublin. The Dublin Chamber of Commerce, 7996 Amador Valley Blvd., is also distributing the kits.

FAA insight

Members of the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce will gain an insight into the workings of the Federal Aviation Agency at today's scheduled noon meeting at Hap's Restaurant.

George Gunter, representing the FAA, will speak to that no-host luncheon gathering which is open to the public.

Pool shut down

The San Ramon Olympic Pool at California High School will be closed Tuesday, March 15 and Wednesday, March 16 to allow the water to be heated to the proper temperature.

The Valley Community Services District Recreation Department released this information yesterday.

Water temperature dropped when the pool was shut down to allow a water pump to be repaired recreation official, according to a VCSA. The following VCSA recreation department classes will be affected by the Tuesday, Wednesday shutdown. Senior Citizens on Tuesday, adult fitness and recreation on Wednesday. No classes are scheduled for Thursday.

Friday evening adult fitness and recreation sessions will be held as scheduled. Saturday classes will also be held as scheduled.

Maid pageant moved

The date for the Maid of Pleasanton Pageant has been moved to Sunday afternoon, May 29.

The event will be held at Castlewood Country Club with luncheon served at 1 p.m. and the pageant to follow. Price of the luncheon, including tax and tip, will be $6.50. Tickets will be available about the first of April from the Chamber of Commerce office, 10 Neal St., and from each of the 10 Maid finalists.

The decision to move to Sunday afternoon this year was made by the committee in order to move from a week night and to take advantage of the lower luncheon fee as opposed to the evening dinner charge.

Deadline for Maid entries to be received at the Chamber office is Friday, March 25.

Any young woman who has resided in Pleasanton from Jan. 1, 1976 and who will be at least 17 years of age but not more than 25 on Aug. 1 is invited to pickup an entry form. Entry blanks are also available at Foothill High, Amador Valley High, and the Chamber office.

Murder trial starts today in Oakland

The trial of Barry Braeseke, the 20-year-old youth charged with murdering his parents and grandfather in their Dublin home last August, begins today in Alameda County Superior Court.

David Barker, 16, of San Ramon, also charged in the triple slaying, goes on trial tomorrow in a different court. His scheduled Monday trial date was postponed because no court room was available.

The two are accused of killing Floyd and Barbara Braeseke, Barry's parents, and his grandfather John Braeseke, in their 11418 Betlen Ave home to gain inheritance and insurance monies.

Braeseke will appear today in department 11 at 9 a.m.

Look at crisis in state hospitals

Both California's health care crisis and criminal justice system will be the topics when Raymond K. Procnier, Chief Deputy Director of the California Department of Health, lectures at Livermore High School March 25 for the benefit of Children's Hospital Medical Center.

The event, sponsored by Mulberry Branch, begins at 8 p.m. in the Student Union Building, 600 Maple St.

The evening's topics are considered controversial because of the current investigation into patient deaths in state mental hospitals, launched just as Procnier took office in October, and because the speaker opposes the system of indeterminate sentencing of felons. On the subject of suspicious deaths among patients, Procnier has this comment.

"When you've got a bad situation, don't try to cover it up or try to explain it away; start the investigation yourself and clean it up." He recently reported that "out of 1,179 patient deaths ... 36 cases are seriously questionable."

Procnier also instituted many controversial reforms during his 26-year career with the Department of Corrections. He was its director from 1967 to 1975. In 1975 he was nominated by Gov. Edmund Brown to the chairmanship of the California Adult Authority.

Reservations for the Procnier lecture at $3.50 each may be obtained by sending checks (payable to Children's Hospital Branches, Inc.) to Mrs. Keith S. Fraser, 827 South K St., Livermore, CA 94550. Or call Mrs. Fraser at 447-8673, Mrs. Fred Wagner at 447-0408, or Mrs. Peter Newcomb at 846-3776.

Senior citizens may obtain free transportation to the lecture by calling the above.

Teachers' decision due today

The representative council of the Amador Valley Secondary Educators Association will make a move toward continuing contract negotiations, agreeing to fact-finding or taking the penultimate step to a strike at a session scheduled this afternoon at Shannon Park Community Center in Dublin.

Negotiations Friday night ended without settlement and teachers at Amador Valley Joint High School District schools reportedly were clearing their desks Monday of personal items.

Dave Woolworth, president of AVSEA, said he had sent a telegram Friday to Wally Decker, Amador board president, urging a continuance of negotiations yesterday and today. By 5 p.m. yesterday, Woolworth said he had not received a reply.

Teacher units of both the Amador and Pleasanton districts have setup what they term a "strike headquarters" at 706 Main St. in Pleasanton. The office is being staffed by Marie Pomeroy, a California Teachers Association secretary from Hayward.

A strategy session was held last night by AVSEA leadership. Woolworth said two or more courses of action would come from this, to be presented to the 30-person representative council today at Shannon Park Community Center.

"Hopefully, we'll come up with several plans," Woolworth opined. Those could include waiting to see what a reorganized Amador district board would do, wait for the fact-finder's report in the Pleasanton

Healthy sales hike in cities

Livermore and Pleasanton each scored healthy gains in retail sales in 1976, but both cities are well behind Dublin as the Valley's leading market place.

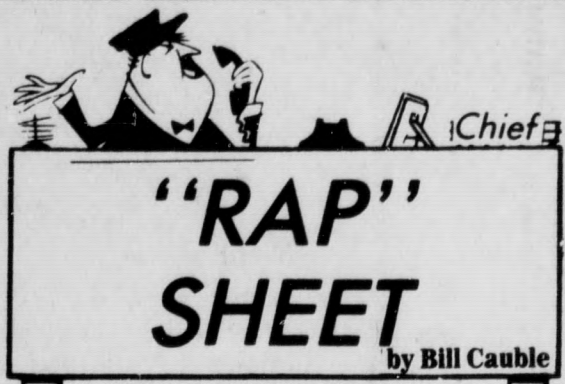

State Board of Equalization totals released this week also reaffirm Pleasanton's steady advance from its position that once recorded only half of Livermore's taxable sales. In the fourth quarter of 1976, Pleasanton had $14,867,000 in taxable sales;

Livermore's total for that quarter was $26,586,000. The two centers were $3 million and $4 million respectively ahead of their 4th quarter 1975 sales.

Added to the previous quarterly totals in 1976, Livermore emerges with $93,415,000 in taxable sales for the year, almost $13 million ahead of its 1975 total. Pleasanton will exceed $54 million in 1976 retail sales, almost $12 million better than the city's 1975 taxable transactions.

The state issues no such breakdown for sales in unincorporated areas as Dublin - San Ramon. It is known however that Dublin alone exceeded $110 million in retail sales in 1975, and the 1976 total is expected to be well ahead of that figure.

Throughout the state, Christmas business had cash registers humming in the fourth quarter of 1976, up 15.4 percent over the same period in 1975.

15-year-old cyclist arrested after chase

LIVERMORE — A 15-year-old cyclist allegedly sped through downtown streets and a shopping center Saturday evening with a passenger aboard before he was bumped and forced to stop, police reported.

Officer John Balbach spotted a cycle with two riders that reportedly drove through a stoplight at Holmes onto Murrieta about 7:30 Saturday night. He gave chase as the two vehicles raced up Stanley Boulevard at more than 60 mph.

The cyclist turned into the Safeway shopping center on First Street and nearly hit several pedestrians including a young boy, police said. The chase moved out onto Stanley westbound as Officer Bob Tette joined the pursuit aboard a police cycle.

Tette pulled up alongside the suspects when their cycle began swerving side to side, forcing him back. The young cyclist then did a quick u-turn and hit the curb in front of Holdener's Dairy. Balbach, hoping to stop the chase before it got back into more heavily populated areas, pulled alongside and bumped the cycle, forcing it to stop.

A 15-year-old boy was cited for driving without a license and for reckless driving. His 15-year-old companion was released without being cited.

Two shots fired near officers; man arrested

SUNOL — A 24-year-old Fremont man was arrested after two security men reported being shot at while crossing Calaveras Dam Sunday.

The two officers said they were crossing the dam about 10 p.m. Sunday when they heard two gunshots about 10 seconds apart. Both reported hearing pellets whizz over their heads.

Witnesses reported seeing a man with a gun walking near the area where the shots were fired. The security officers arrested a suspect with a 12-gauge shotgun a few minutes later.

Booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon, trespassing upon posted property and vandalism was Lawrence Wayne Potts, 24, of Fremont.

Police said the suspect gave varying accounts of the incident. Officers found a padlock belonging to the San Francisco Water Company in the suspect's pocket that had allegedly been sawed through, it was reported.

$1000 candelabras taken from home for sale

PLEASANTON — A pair of sterling silver candelabras valued at $1000 were reportedly taken from a Hillsdale Drive home while it was being offered for sale recently, police reported.

David Horwitz told police that the house, offered on multiple listings, had been sold. When he began moving out, the loss was discovered. There are no suspects.

Fresno youth booked on three counts of burglary

LIVERMORE — A 17-year-old Fresno youth has allegedly been tied to recent burglaries in the city, police reported.

Friday, Joey Alvarado of Fremont reported that $700 in tools had been taken from a locked toolbox mounted in the bed of his pick-up truck while parked in front of a Leahy Way home.

The same day, Ernest Jefferson York of Leahy Way told officers that $1338 in music equipment had been stolen from the trunk of his Cadillac.

Acting on a citizen's tip, police arrested a suspect walking in a field near the square. His statements to officers led to recovery of the music equipment at a nearby house. The suspect was booked on three counts of suspicion of burglary.

Camera and accessories taken from locked truck

LIVERMORE — Burglars entered a locked pick-up parked on First Street recently and took $582 worth of camera gear, police reported.

Michael Joseph McNaughton told police he returned to his truck, noticed nothing unusual since it was still locked, and drove off. He discovered the theft later and reported it to police.

A Canon FTB camera and accessories were missing. There are no suspects.

Rose Street office burglarized of equipment

PLEASANTON — Burglars broke glass and popped a latch to enter the Joliff Engineering Corp. office at 1500 Rose Ave. Sunday, taking an estimated $825 in office machines.

Police reportedly lifted one fingerprint at the scene. Missing items include two calculators, an IBM typewriter and a digital clock. There are no suspects at this time.

Roto-tiller taken from Grossman's display

LIVERMORE — A $275 roto-tiller was reportedly stolen from a display in front of Grossman's hardware store at 958 Portola Ave. Friday evening, police reported.

The tiller is described as a five horsepower, green-colored unit. There are no suspects.

Carter asks House to loosen pot laws

WASHINGTON (AP) —

The Carter Administration asked Congress on Monday to decriminalize marijuana possession and said it is "carefully re-examining" its position on penalties for possessing cocaine.

However, U.S. Commissioner of Customs Vernon Acree said marijuana decriminalization might increase the amount of the drug smuggled into the country.

"Without the threat of criminal prosecution, many who formerly feared involvement with marijuana may now become involved," Acree told a special House committee on narcotics.

Dr. Peter Bourne, Carter's choice to head the Office of Drug Abuse Policy, told the same committee that the administration "will continue to discourage marijuana use, but we feel criminal penalties that brand otherwise law-abiding people for life are neither an effective nor an appropriate deterrent."

He was asked by Rep. Lester Wolff, D-N.Y., the committee's chairman, whether the administration contemplated a similar stand in regard to cocaine.

Bourne said, "This is an extremely complicated issue and we are in the process now of very carefully re-examining our position on that issue."

He said the re-examination would be carried out over the next few weeks and would involve foreign as well as domestic policy.

Cocaine, like marijuana, is generally regarded as a non-addictive drug. It is prescribed by physicians for certain maladies.

Wolff said the committee would hear from law enforcement officers and medical specialists during three days of hearings. Officials from Oregon and California, two of the six states which have decriminalized marijuana use, also will testify.

The Carter administration proposal would remove criminal penalties for possession of small quantities of marijuana for the owner's personal use. It would provide a civil fine, which would not result in a criminal record.

While the administration has geared for a possible walkout, passing a host of resolutions earlier this month that provide for premium pay for substitute teachers and potentially put striking teachers on untenable ground, they remain cautious in outlook.

At the same time, a Dublin High School parents advisory group has gone on record as supporting the position of the Amador board in its current negotiations with AVSEA.

According to Mrs. Robinson, the key item to be resolved is grievance of a layoff because of lack of work or lack of district funds. She says the only way employees now could grieve such an action would be to go to court.

She added that tentative agreement has been reached on an advisory form of arbitration and salary—3.7 per cent in Pleasanton and 4 per cent in Amador.

Pioneer effort in nursing

They know how to rehabilitate a stroke patient, write a medical chart, care for a catheter and deliver a baby.

The 30 young women who will be graduating this June from Manila McGuire's pioneering "nurse's aide" course can do a lot more than empty bedpans. The course is offered to high school students through the Valley-wide Regional Occupation Program. For many, it's the gateway to a career in medicine.

Although there are many people working now as nurse's aides without any training at all, a new state law will soon require some 150 hours of academic and clinical experience.

In contrast, the ROP students will have 540 hours of instruction under their belts by June. It includes class time learning about such specialized items as intensive care, operating room procedures, how to revive a heart attack victim; and clinical experience in Valley Memorial Hospital and local nursing homes, closely supervised by Mrs. McGuire, a registered nurse.

The class recently took a field trip to a morticians' school in San Francisco. "After all," says their teacher, whose no-nonsense manner is exceeded only by her warm sense of humor, "they do take care of dying persons."

Thanks to "fantastic cooperation" from the Valley Memorial Hospital staff, says McGuire, students have been trusted to work with touchy medical cases in the intensive and cardiac care units. They have watched babies being delivered, witnessed surgery, worked in the nursery, assisted in the X-ray department and helped with respiratory therapy.

"I wasn't expecting half of what we do!" confessed one eager student who plans to go on for an R.N. degree.

Others said they plan careers in physical therapy and X-ray, now that they have had a chance to work with various specialists.

The heat was getting off to a slow start when this shot was taken of Manila McGuire, R.N., and nurse's aide students in their new classroom. (Times photo)

Class spirit has perked up considerably since the students moved last week into a brand-new building behind Valley Memorial. The sunny classroom and office building was constructed with ROP funding on land donated by the hospital corporation. A bus travels to the high schools in Dublin, Pleasanton and Livermore to pick up not only the nursing students but others who take ROP meatcutting and auto shop classes in Livermore.

When not being used for the aide class, the new building is to VMH staff for meetings and classes.

Not only are the nursing students making a thorough study of medicine; they're also getting a big dose of discipline. They have to wear clean, white uniforms and polished shoes to class every day. Their hair must be pulled back from their faces and off their necks. They're expected to be on time and to turn in complete, accurate assignments.

No dark nailpolish, no heavy makeup. "They're supposed to care for the patients, not charm them," McGuire says sternly. "Not everybody goes for the regimentation. But I try to make them see the reasons for the rules."

As the students are getting experience on the floor, staff is enjoying a free pair of helping hands. And patients get plenty of extra attention from the soft-hearted girls.

"It used to take me all morning to give one bed bath," one student confided.

"Now I'm up to three. I hate to hurry."

Doctor claims he's held

PLEASANTON — A local doctor being detained in Berkeley's Herrick Hospital claimed yesterday he was being kept illegally against his will.

Dr. Gerald Price, a family doctor in Pleasanton for four years, said he went to the Pleasanton Police Department Monday to file a burglary report when police asked him to act as an undercover agent and feign illness to help officers on a case.

When he arrived at the hospital, Price said, he was signed in as a patient and not allowed to leave.

Forgery case kicked

LIVERMORE — Judge Al Lewis yesterday continued the case of three suspected bad check passers to tomorrow, after reducing their bail and requesting the public defender's office find an attorney for one of the defendants.

The three are charged with one count of forgery, three counts of possession of forged checks with intent to pass and one count of receiving stolen property.

They are Belinda Crockett McDuff, 26, of San Bruno; Reginald B. Dixon, 27, of San Francisco; and Anita Maria Eberhart, 23, of Las Vegas.

The Department of Justice has reportedly accused McDuff of being a member of the King-Brown gang, a statewide forgery ring that has allegedly operated across the state for more than one year.

The defendants were arrested by Pleasanton police March 8 after one of the women was observed leaving Wells Fargo Bank on Santa Rita Road.

A search of the vehicle in which she was riding revealed three occupants had more than $1,000 cash, three checks, two pawn tickets and several torn pieces of paper thought to be checks, police reported. The bank said the woman allegedly cashed a $355 check using a Pleasanton woman's name.

Bail was reduced from $35,000 to $5,000 for Dixon and Eberhart. McDuff's attorney, Dennis P. Ruel of San Francisco, asked for a similar reduction, but Judge Lewis noted Ruel's client reportedly has similar cases pending in Beverly Hills, Santa Ana, Pasadena and San Jose.

Deputy District Attorney Clifford Campbell reminded the judge of McDuff's alleged connections to the check passing ring and said he was opposed to any bail reduction.

Ruel attempted to paint a picture of a client who has cooperated with all authorities in her other cases, but the judge said "This is more serious than most check passing charges."

Strike threat looms

ton district (now expected Wednesday from chief fact-finder Robert Leventhal), support a move to fact-finding or finalize plans for implementing the strike vote of 2½ weeks ago.

Woolworth said there would be a strike date set and presented to the rep council for approval today.

However, setting of a date does not mean a strike of teachers is inevitable. Woolworth said that date could be as early as next week or as distant as late April.

While the administration has geared for a possible walkout, passing a host of resolutions earlier this month that provide for premium pay for substitute teachers and potentially put striking teachers on untenable ground, they remain cautious in outlook.

COLOR ME RED

Color, along with the other best things in life, is free. And that should cut down on our medical bills, because there is a whole theory about the healing power of colors.

Color therapists treat various diseases of the body and the mind, by exposing the patient to colored rays, by instructing the person to wear certain colors for specific complaints, and to eat foods of a particular color, for a certain illness.

According to the theory, probably not cleared with the American Medical Association, cosmic energy, in the form of rays of light, is drawn into the human body through the power centers, or chakras. The power flows out along the spine to the whole body, vitalizing every part.

According to the color theorists, of the seven major cosmic rays used in healing, red is very important for the creative, procreative and restorative functions. In other words, red makes us sexy. Besides that, as if that weren't enough, it is good for colds and chills. We are advised to eat beets, radishes, and other red foods, and to drink water that has absorbed sun rays through a red filter. It also helps us to overcome fears and worries, and aids circulation, according to color theory.

Orange is called the wisdom ray. It gives energy and stimulates the mind, they say. Eat oranges, cantaloupes, peaches and carrots, but be careful, say the experts. Treatment should not be used indiscriminately. Orange broadens the mind, encourages understanding and tolerance, supplies courage and coping ability. We certainly wouldn't want too much of that.

The yellow ray aids digestion and the nervous system. This is good reason to paint the kitchen yellow. It is also supposed to purify the system and heal the skin. It is called the mental ray, and stimulates the intellect. A good reason for painting libraries and classrooms yellow. It helps with self control and brings a balanced mental attitude, and optimism. Our mental hospitals, jail cells, and probably our houses, should be yellow.

Peaceful, harmonious green is soothing and restorative. It is supposed to be good for our hearts. This probably explains why surgeons wear those green gowns during heart transplant operations.

The blue cosmic ray is cooling and calming in its influence. The throat is most effected by it's rays, color experts tell us. The power of speech and expression benefit from its quieting power. If you give a speech, refer to blue notes, wear a blue shirt, and wear blue glasses. You won't be nervous, it says here.

The indigo ray is said to control the pineal gland and is absorbed through the third eye chakra. That's the invisible eye in between the two eyes that show. It may make us able to read minds. So beware the mysterious stranger, or the mysterious friend, in indigo. We're advised to eat lots of blueberries. The color is supposed to be good for problems of eyes, ears and throat and that's good, because you'll probably be up to your eyes, ears and throat in blueberry juice.

Controlling the crown chakra, and linked with the pituitary gland, the violet cosmic ray is the highest vibration of all the colors, and has to do with intuition and spiritual understanding. One color therapist tells artists, actors and musicians to gain peace and calm through the violet ray. They are advised to partake of the purple grape. And some do.

Violet also aids in meditation. Color healers recommend it for concussions, spinal meningitis and kidney diseases, if you can believe that.

The seven rays are supposed to represent seven stages in the evolution of man. Red, orange and yellow have already gone by. At this time we are said to be in our green period, not terribly high on the evolutionary scale, because we are so absorbed by the material world, but ahead are the higher influences of blue, and the finer powers of indigo and violet, with their psychic indications for spiritual progress. But I still say, color me red.

Lifestyle

She's got the Greek way to move it

"I was stubborn, I was always proud," declares Anna Efstathion of her childhood within Oakland's Greek community.

Everyday after school she would join other children of Greek families to be tutored in the Greek language by the priest of the local Greek Orthodox Church. For marriages, baptisms, feast days or any other occasion worth celebrating, Anna was among the revelers who perpetuated Greek traditions through music and the dance.

The dance is what Anna loved best. The lively, laughing group dances heightened her awareness of belonging to a special community, and instilled a pride in her culture in an era when many young, second-generation Greeks were ashamed of the traditions that stamped them as "foreigners."

Today, Anna finds her greatest satisfaction in introducing young people to their Greek roots through the dance.

"Besides telling them about dancing, I discover that I have to give them lessons in Greek history, too," she laughs. "They hang on my every word. Today's young people are proud of their Greek background."

A dark woman with a graceful, relaxed air,

Anna is sure to be a hit among students in a new class in Greek dancing coming to Pleasanton March 23. You don't need a partner, or a classic profile, to join the line and circle dances to be taught in the ten-week course through the Pleasanton Department of Human Resources, Wednesdays from 1 to 3 p.m.

Registration at $15 per person is open today from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Pleasanton Cultural Arts Building on Black Avenue or at the city office on Bernal Avenue through the week.

Anna dismisses her dozen years as the Bay Area's foremost instructor in Greek dance with a wave of the hand. "I started to teach on a fluke." She had been exposed to all types of Greek music, from liturgical to folk, as a member of the a church choir which toured college campuses with a program of folk songs and dances in costume.

The church group expanded its ranks to 70 for a big Greek folk dance festival at the Oakland Auditorium encompassing dances of the Greek mainland and islands, as well as popular tavern dances.

After the first of many trips to Greece, to research native dances and renew her love affair with the country, Anna began dancing every evening with a band that performed at a Greek nightclub in San Francisco — "just for fun." The owner of the club asked her to consider teaching a class, and her new vocation was launched.

She directs three groups of young people at Ascension Church in Oakland, and the "Glendi Dancers" which tour the Bay Area from their base at the Resurrection Greek Orthodox Church in Castro Valley.

Although her work with children of the Greek community is closest to her heart, Anna believes that everyone can enjoy Greek dancing. Many of the circle or line dances can be learned quickly by beginners who want to enjoy themselves. Few are as difficult as the athletic "vari hasapiko" or "hasaposerviko" which are best known.

"Bellydancing is NOT Greek at all," disclaims Anna who is convinced that authentic Greek dances are among the best entertainment in the world. "You can see real dancing in Greece if you know where to go. In Athens, after 1 a.m. when the tourists have gone to bed, the Greeks begin to celebrate. They know how to enjoy life."

Symbol of hope

In the spirit of St. Patrick, many volunteers will be out in force in Alameda County collecting the "green" to share the luck of the Irish — and all of us — with people afflicted by muscular dystrophy and related diseases.

Pleasanton real estate salesman Ben Davidson, chairman of the Shamrocks Against Dystrophy drive, notes, "Shamrocks, according to the Irish, are the symbol of hope, and monies raised in this campaign give exactly that — hope, through MDA's research programs, for a healthy tomorrow as well as help today through patient service programs."

Gambling dude's dream

Dorothy Houston and Barbara Harris invite you to shine those spurs and don those chaps for "A Night at the Last Chance Saloon," a gambling dude's dream scheduled for Saturday, March 19 at 122 W. Sharing ideas for parenthood

"Sharing Ideas for Parenthood," a class for prospective parents and the parents of young children, will be offered during the spring quarter by both the Livermore and Pleasanton adult education programs.

Topics ranging from fostering creativity to discipline will be discussed at the classes, scheduled to begin Wednesday, March 23 at Asbury Methodist Church, 4743 East Ave. in Livermore and Thursday, March 24 at the Christian Education Center, 4300 Mirador Drive in Pleasanton. Both sessions will meet from 9:15 a.m. to 11:15 a.m.

Taught by Ruth Gasten, the classes first began seven years ago. "Having a child does not automatical-

Learn all about local educational options

Is your educational philosophy in tune with that of your child's school? Do you choose the fundamental, traditional, team-taught, or personalized method of education for your child?

To learn more about the options open to you in the valley, join the American Association of University Women for a discussion of these and other educational concerns Tuesday, March 15 at Walnut Grove School, 5199 Black Ave., Pleasanton. The 7:30 p.m. public forum features Principal Tony Huff of Walnut Grove

School, Principal Bob Hill of Livermore's Rincon School, Harline Kruger of San Francisco State University, and Bob Barker, coordinator of Early Childhood Education for Alameda County.

A discussion period, following the forum, will cover audience questions from team - teaching to the importance of grades. Whatever the answer to the valley's educational needs, learn more about your choices before the next academic year rolls around.

Reception fetes book

Sage Books of Pleasanton will host a champagne reception Thursday, March 17, heralding the release of "The World of Women's Gymnastics." Open to the public, the 7 p.m. reception honors writer Jim Gault, who has coached Olympic contender Diane Dunbar, the gymnast featured on the book's cover.

Founder of the Diablo Gymnastics Club, Gault's book focuses on the psychological, physical and mental aspects of the sport.

Community-wide volunteer needs

The Valley Volunteer Bureau is a clearinghouse for the valley community where human resources and needs are matched. The bureau maintains an up-to-date inventory of types of volunteers needed. Dr. Joyce Brothers

DEAR DR. BROTHERS: My husband and I fight a lot lately. Usually the problem is money and my going to work. My husband can't understand how any woman could want to work. He thinks their reasons are trivial. His irrational attitude infuriates me. He's tight with money but forbids me to work so we'll have more. I'm trapped and I hate it. Our children are in high school and they wouldn't be home when I'm not there if I take the job I've been offered. — R.K.

DEAR R.K.: If you want the job, take it. No man today "forbids" his wife to do anything unless she wants to play a passive, dependent role. Many women like and need to feel that they are servants of their husband. It makes them feel secure and wanted when they can say, "My husband won't allow me to." Some men play this game in reverse saying, "My wife wouldn't allow me." Couples who do this are using each other as an excuse to get out of something they don't want to do anyway. Instead of saying, "I don't want to," they say, "my wife" or "my husband" won't allow me, thereby putting the blame on their spouse.

Most women want jobs for basically the same reason men want them: to accomplish things, to do a job well and completely.

If you don't do what you want to do now, you'll grow to resent your husband and family.

DEAR DR. BROTHERS: Our daughter entered college in September and when she came home we were appalled at her language. She never used foul language and now almost every other word is an obscenity. We said nothing but later my husband confided that he felt sure her language reflected her dating habits and he's certain she must be going with young men we would not approve of. I don't want him to interfere because he was reluctant to let her date at all before she went to college. She also bites her nails which she never did. She seems much less adjusted now than she was when she was home under our wing. — E.E.

DEAR E.E.: Your daughter's using profanity may be a deliberate attempt to convince you and herself that she is no longer a little girl. A recent study indicated that students use obscenity for emotional release rather than for its literal meaning. It also helps to separate them from an older generation who may have used these terms in private, but not in public. This is part of the "let-it-all-hang-out" philosophy that emphasizes total honesty and candor. I believe this is a phase your daughter is going through. You may find in a few months that she no longer feels the need to rely on profanity to make her points. Profanity has become a kind of fad today. It often signifies that one is part of the in-group.

Independence can bring pressure and your daughter may be trying to adjust to her new freedom. Her nail-biting may be an indication of the anxiety she's trying to overcome. It may help her relieve nervousness, this too may be temporary.

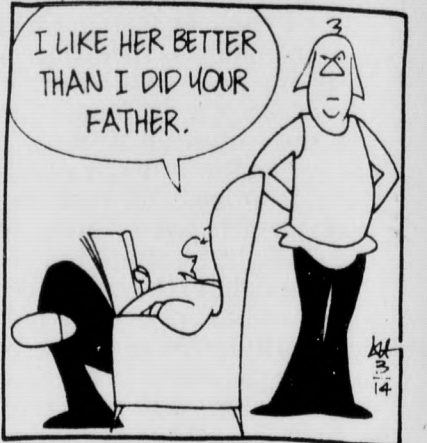

As far as her dating is concerned, your husband may be projecting his concerns about his own youth. Today, the young man who uses profanity is no more apt to be immoral than the one who does not.

If you ask your daughter why she's using profanity, without criticizing its use, her answers might prove revealing. She may not know why, but at least it might be thought-provoking and might encourage her to ask herself some questions.

Dr. Lamb

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I got married recently and my husband and I agreed to wait before starting a family. I went to my doctor for birth control pills. He gave me a Pap test, but while doing it he casually said I have a tipped womb. I bombarded him with questions as to my chances of getting pregnant and if I do conceive will I be able to carry my child for nine months. He said it was nothing and not to worry about it. He gave me a prescription for the pills. I told him I would not take them because he was so vague in responding to my questions.

I told my husband about my doctor's visit and my fears about not being able to get pregnant, the doctor would not have given them to me. I love my husband and would like to think that he and the doctor are correct, but I'm worried and not satisfied with either. I consulted a gynecologist and she was even vaguer than my regular doctor.

What I want to know from you is, with a tipped womb, considering my health to be excellent, will I get pregnant? I am not taking the pills and I haven't gotten pregnant. I haven't told my husband because I do want to have his children and I have it planted in my mind that it will take my ears to conceive and if I take the pills it will take even longer. Am I wrong? Or will I have to have my womb straight before I can conceive?

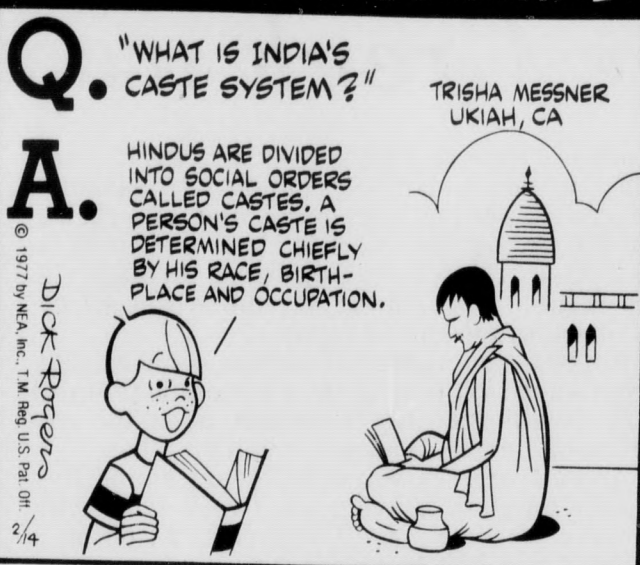

DEAR READER — By the time you get my reply you may have already found out that you can get pregnant. Won't your husband be surprised!

I suspect your doctors have been reluctant to promise you that you will get pregnant because 15 per cent of couples do not have children — that is, having nothing to do with a "tipped womb." A tipped womb simply refers to the fact that the uterus is not positioned so that its dome (blind end) is pointed above or toward the pubic bone. In the adult female the uterus is like a pear with the blossom end pointed toward the wall of the abdomen and the stem end or cervix directed downward, opening at the top or near the blind end of the vaginal canal. When the uterus is tipped it is usually "retrodisplaced" meaning the uterus has fallen backward.

The point you need to know is that studies have been done to see if displacement of the uterus would affect fertility. While some "tipped wombs" were observed in infertile couples this was not the cause of the infertility. After all, since 15 per cent of couples are infertile it would be surprising if all of these women had perfect reproductive systems.

Even if displacement of the uterus changes the location of the cervix to some extent this will not prevent pregnancy. All that has to happen is for sperm to get to the opening, wherever it is, and they will migrate to the uterus.

Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER

If you lived in India and were Hindu, you might belong to one of the many religious and social classes called castes.

When you were born, you belonged to the same caste as your parents. You might associate with and marry only people who belong to the same caste.

A Hindu's caste is determined mainly by his race, birthplace and occupation.

India's caste system originated thousands of years ago. The highest caste was traditionally priests.

Other castes included soldiers and government officials, businessmen and farmers, craftsmen and laborers.

All others who did not belong to any caste were called outcasts and "untouchables."

No one could rise to a higher caste. But if a low-caste person led a good life it was believed the soul would be reborn as a high-caste.

Today the caste system is breaking down, and many Hindus.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Today's hand is an object lesson for those people who feel that having to play a game contract with four trumps opposite three is a fate worse than death. Playing at four spades, South makes the key play at trick three. South discards a low diamond on the third heart instead of ruffing. After this, he makes the rest of the tricks with no trouble at all. He has 10 top tricks in notrump, but the opponents will almost surely take five heart tricks before he can gain the lead.

Now let's look at the bidding. North has 14 high-card points, plus a 10 spot and his correct opening bid is clearly one diamond. His choice after South responds one spade lies between one notrump and two spades and two spades is the better call.

While South may have only four spades, he is just about as likely to have a five-card suit. A final spade contract is likely to be superior. Finally, if South does have just four spades he may try some other second bid and the partnership can still get to notrump.

And then for the proof of the pudding, South does have just four spades, but they are enough for game to wheel in.

Would draw power from the ocean

Energy magician plays to empty hall

SPRY, Pa. — (NEA) — Harry Houdini turned dimes into dollars. Doug Henning turns scarves into flowers. But J. Hilbert Anderson, no prestidigitator, can turn water into electricity and says that the real trick is to get an energy starved nation to let him do it.

Abracadabra! His prop is an eight-foot-high contraption of neither big business nor the federal government is listening. Anderson is a fifty performer, they say, but like a magician he's purely illusion. It might be different for Anderson were he with General Electric, or had influence in Washington. As it is he is an obscure engineering consultant working out of a remodeled firehouse near

Anderson says the nation seems unable to unstuck itself from the established concepts of energy production. For example, the government still clings to the intellectual familiarity of nuclear power. Gradually, under criticism, the government is slowly shifting some emphasis to solar energy, but other than this the thinking remains dusty.

pipes and gauges wired to electric lights. He puts warm water in one end, which vaporizes a refrigerant, which turns a turbine, which creates a spark that, presto, fires the lights. And then the vapor is cooled by cold water to become refrigerant and start the cycle again.

It's called ocean thermal energy conversion (OTEC). Anderson says his model can be transformed into a 100,000-kilowatt plant off the American coast. The warm surface sea water would then vaporize the refrigerant, and turn the turbines, whereupon deeper cold water would be used to cool the vapor and hence repeat the end of paragraph two.

The idea is not crazy. The concept has been around for nearly a century, and a Frenchman named Georges Claude conducted successful experiments near Cuba in the 1920s. Now, with modern sophistications, Anderson says the Gulf stream waters off Florida alone have an energy potential 50 to 100 times the annual American electricity use.

And yet Anderson can't get his act on the road. He says for $150 million he can by 1983 build an OTEC power plant that will light the homes for a city of 100,000 people. But country where the cows feed. The government has helped him with some minor research but makes it clear it does not regard him as another Edison.

Actually, considering his obscurity, Anderson's credentials in the underpopulated region of OTEC are good. As long ago as the early 1960s he was busy updating Georges Claude's work by making improvements in the active OTEC agents (refrigerant rather than water) and by designing cheaper and far more efficient heat exchangers.

He publicized his initial ideas in 1962, but to the enthusiastic applause of very few. Oil was then cheap, natural gas was plentiful, Saudi Arabia was something from a geography book; the world wondered why it needed a scheme to generate power from competing temperatures in the sea.

Despite this lack of interest, however, Anderson persevered. Now he is one of the foremost OTEC experts in the world. Unfortunately, this is like being adept at bird whistling — there is not much call for the skill. When Americans discuss potential energy sources, says Anderson, OTEC ranks just above power from buffalo chips.

To illustrate this dustiness, Anderson tells of two experimental power plants scheduled to be built in California. One is solar power, 10,000 kilowatt capacity, but will operate only a third of each day at a construction cost of $100 million. The other plant is geothermal, same capacity, but will operate continually for $5 million in starting money.

Guess which project the government is sponsoring. Anderson says he has a stake in the geothermal plant. He is helping a private corporation with its design. He says it will produce three times the power at nearly one-tenth the cost of the solar power facility, and yet the government sticks with the latter. He chuckles at this nonsense. But he says it hurts when he laughs.

It also hurts when Anderson tries to balance his books each month. The cost of his OTEC research is high and the profits so far have been zero. A few stockholders keep the flame going, he says, otherwise he remains solvent on the strength of unrelated consulting commissions.

Energy magic? That's easy says Anderson. What's hard is to conjure up an appreciative audience.

The time to go solar is now

By Joseph G. Gavin

Hey — it's here now. Americans have the impression that solar energy is a future alternative to oil and gas. In fact, it's not only a practical fuel alternative today, but it has been for over 40 years.

In the 1930s, before cheap natural gas and electricity became available, some 60,000 domestic solar hot water heating systems were installed in this country, mostly in Florida. Solar hot water heating is standard today in Israel and Australia.

There seems to be no reliable information about how many are now installed in this country but they number in the thousands and, with few exceptions, they're working well and paying for themselves in lower fuel bills.

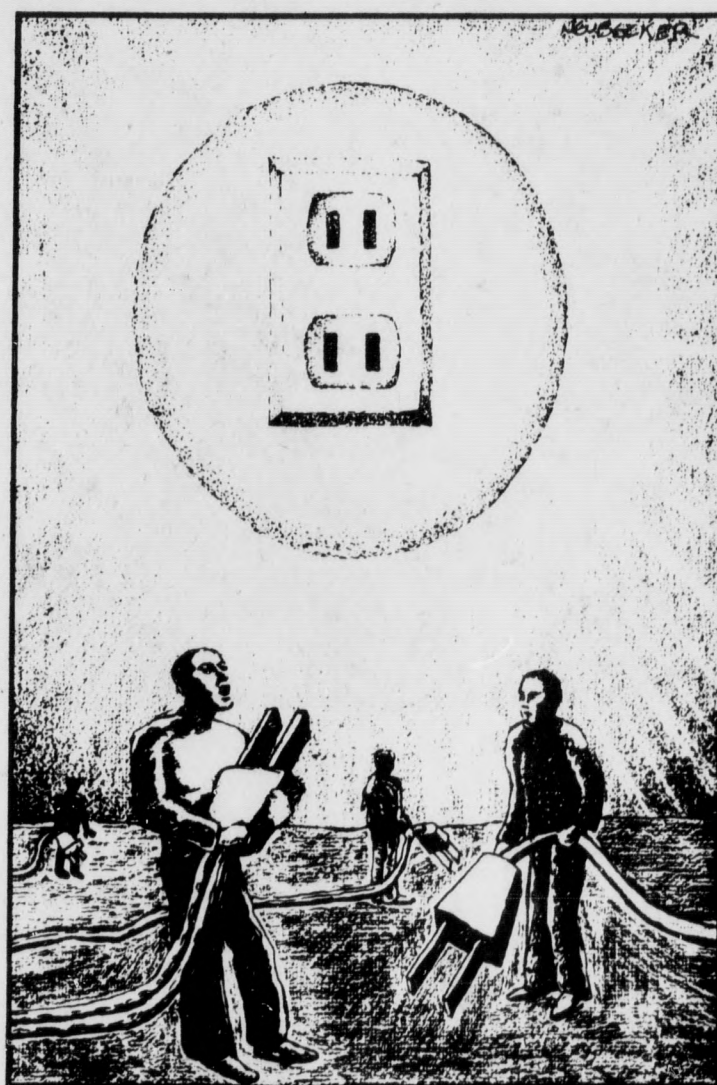

For example, a typical homeowner on Long Island uses about 30 per cent of his heating energy to heat water. He can install a solar system for about $1,500. On cloudy days, he will still use conventional fuel to heat his water tank, but overall he will reduce that part of his heating requirement by 50 per cent.

If the cost of energy only goes up 7 per cent a year, his original investment will be recovered in 10 years. Put another way, it will earn at least a 10 per cent annual tax free dividend.

If energy costs go up faster — and of course they have been — his recovery will be faster and his tax free dividend will be greater. In any case, his solar system is a permanent home improvement asset which he can expect to enhance the value of his house for resale.

We estimate that if 75 per cent of the single-family homes in this country had solar hot water heaters today, the United States would be saving 250,000 barrels of oil a day. If you add to that the potential savings in commercial operations, especially in laundries, car washes and other businesses that use large amounts of hot water, the potential of this simple, proven and available technology to reduce our consumption of imported oil becomes even greater.

So why the "sometime in the future" perception? One reason is probably the name. Solar energy sounds like space technology. Something exotic, complicated and unreliable — not for my house. Not something so simple as a liquid circulated across a dark surface exposed to the sun, where it gets hot, and then carried back inside where the heat can be used.

Another reason for the misperception is the idea of "energy independence." We've seen a spate of newspaper stories about future energy systems that could someday replace imported oil for all our requirements, and it's in that context that most people encounter the idea of solar energy. Solar is a promising future source of massive amounts of energy, but the dimensions of our national problem are greater than its potential.

As a nation, we should be aggressively developing new technologies to use wind, nuclear and other energy sources, as well as new and better ways to use our remaining supplies of fossil fuels. All this should be based on a national program to encourage the conservation of energy, because as I read the numbers, without effective conservation measures, no combination of foreseeable energy sources will meet our needs.

I suspect there's at least one more reason for the misperception. The energy spokesman for the federal government today is the Energy Research and Development Administration. That is a research agency. Inevitably, their eyes are on the future, and on next year's research budget.

But while ERDA is publicizing studies that show the need for more solar research — and more research is needed — the country is overlooking the opportunity to use what we have right now.

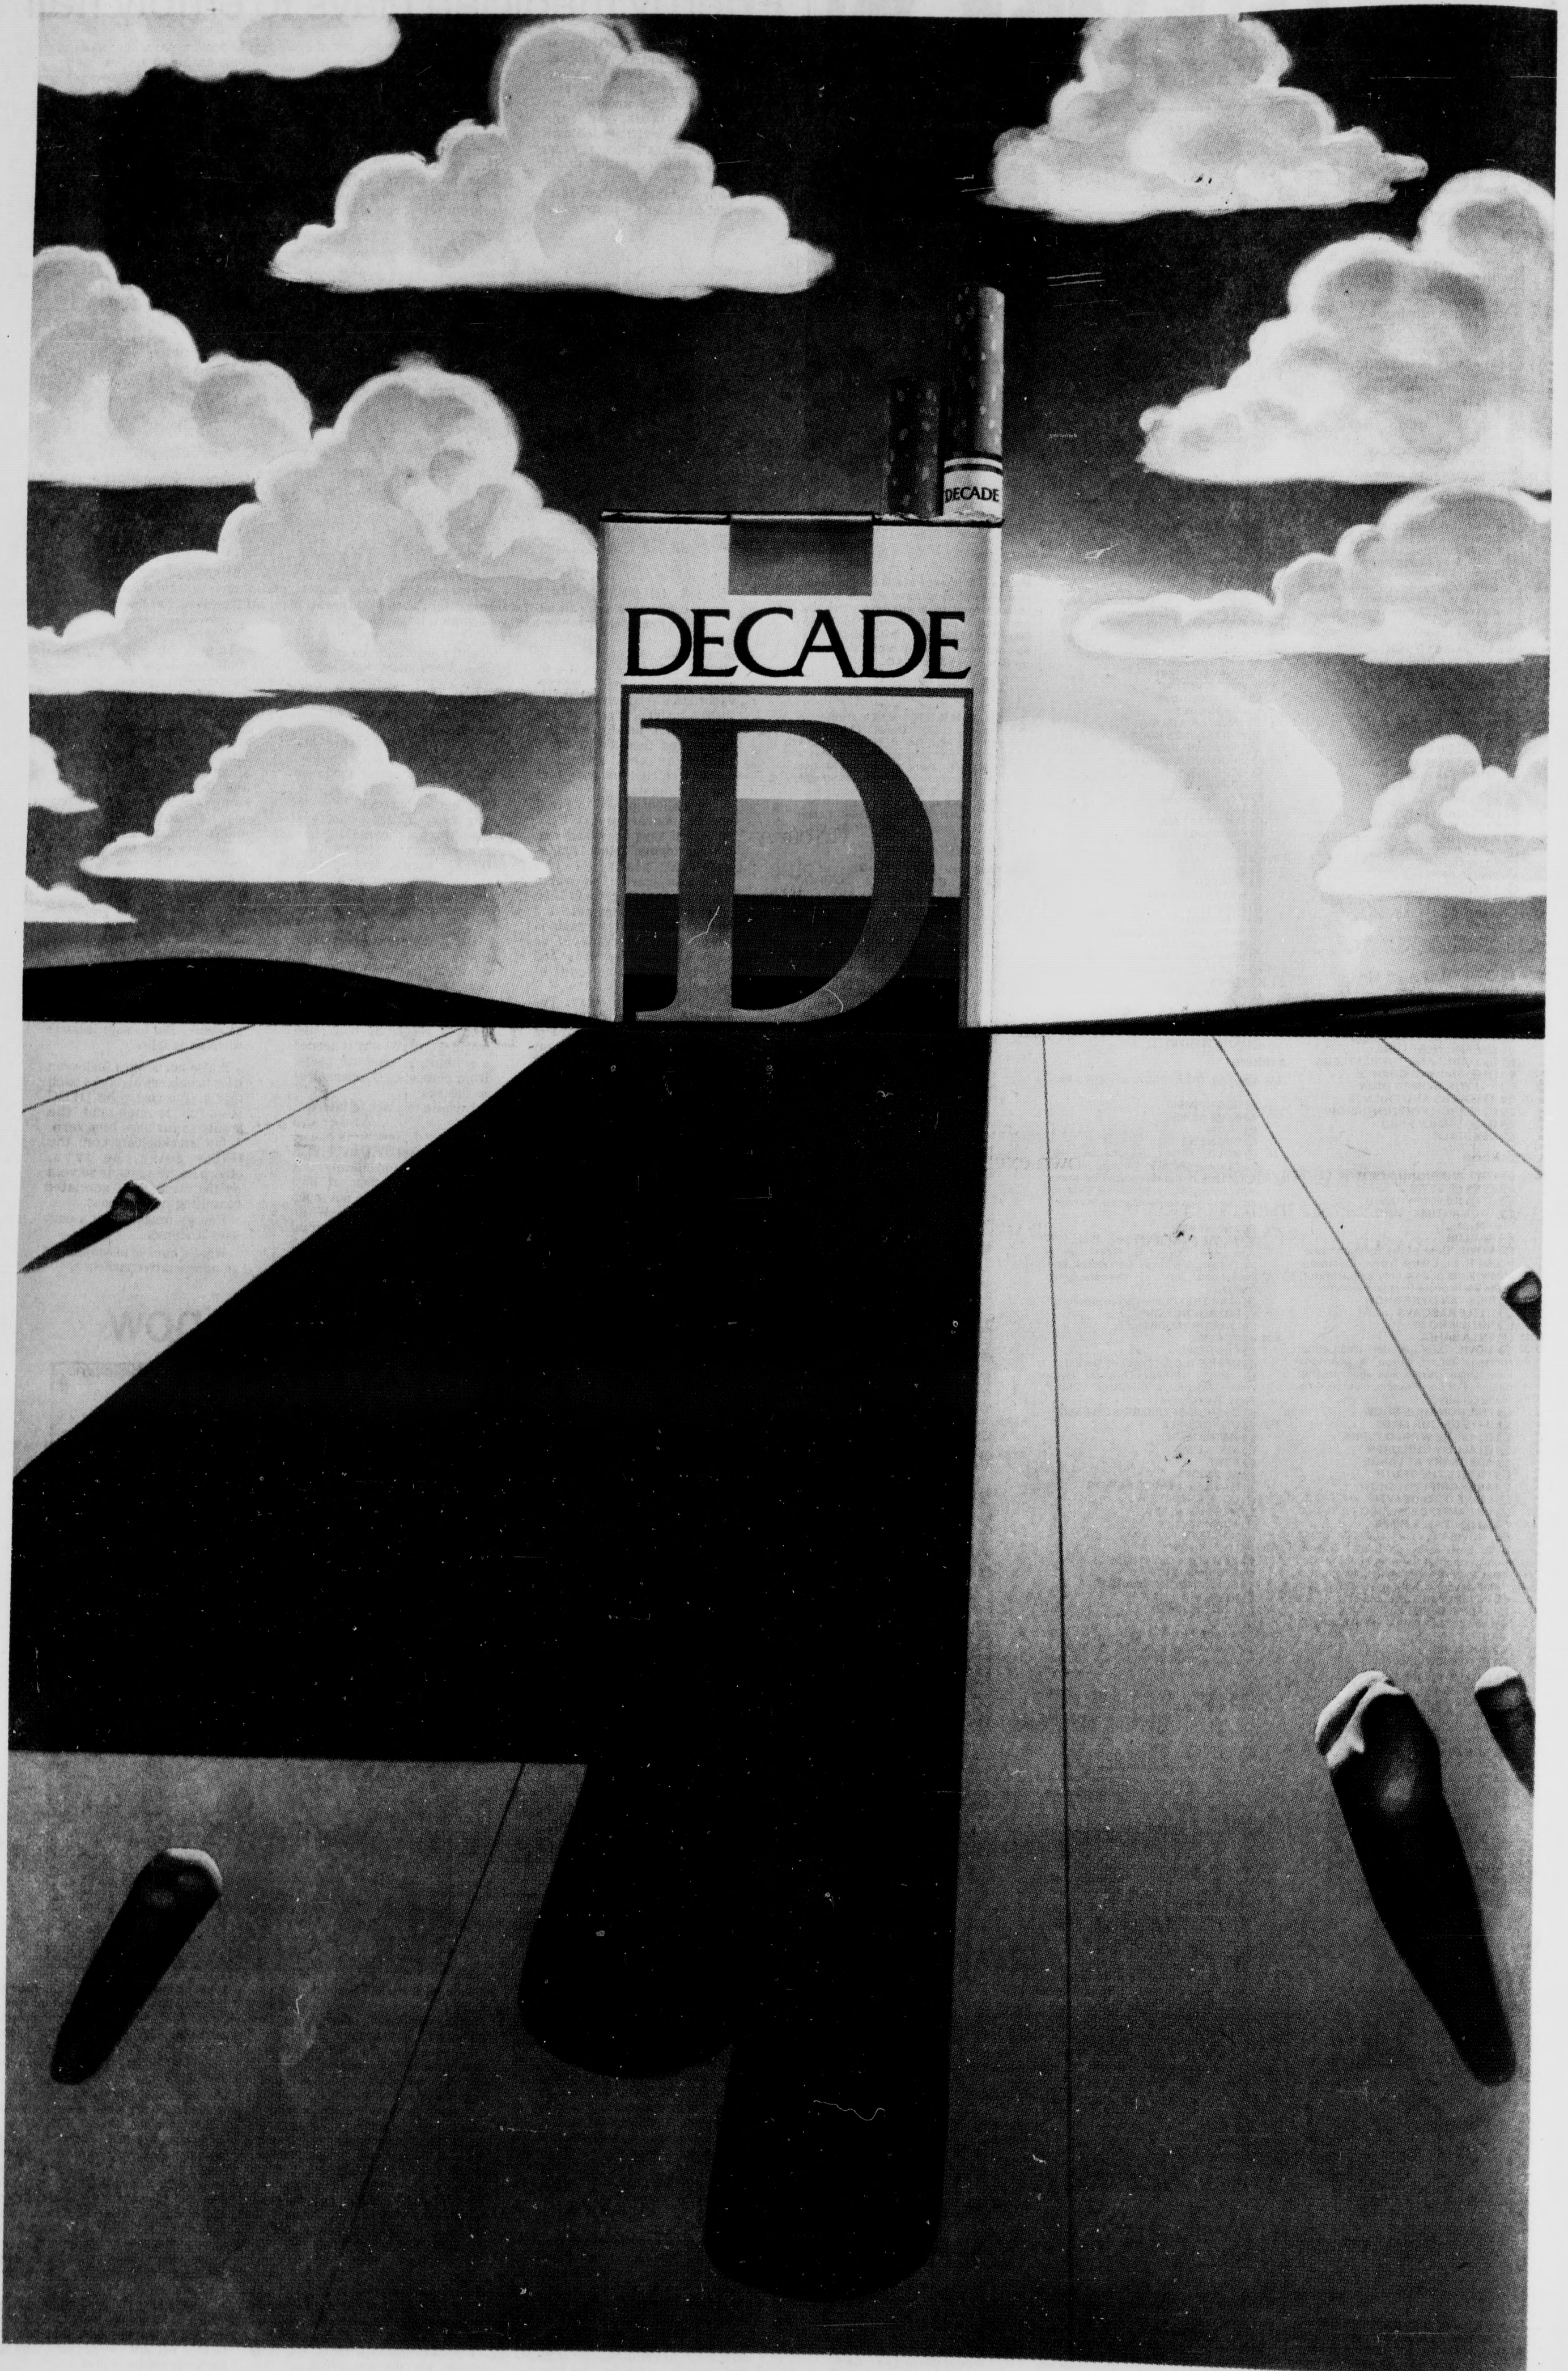

This is not like improving rail transportation for example, where developing new trains doesn't make sense without the parallel development of entire systems of tracks and switching and services and rates and regulations and on and on. Solar energy requires no invention, no new government agencies, no new installation or servicing skills, no new manufacturing or distribution methods.

It only requires the individual homeowners who are fed up with the rising cost of fuel to realize that they can become not just energy consumers but energy producers — now.

DECADE. THE TASTE THAT TOOK TEN YEARS TO MAKE.

Originally, you couldn't get real cigarette taste without what has come to be known as tobacco 'tar.' The problem of reducing this 'tar' to 5 mg. while maintaining taste is enormous.

That's why, when we set out to work, we didn't give ourselves a time limit. It's a good thing. Because it took us ten years to develop a "Total System" capable of delivering truly satisfying taste in a 5 mg. 'tar' cigarette.

What we mean by "Total System."

A high filtration low 'tar' cigarette is a complex system of interacting parts.

The tobacco. The filter. And even the paper.

Our objective was to focus on all these parts and arrange them in perfect balance with each other. Only by concentrating on the parts were we able to perfect the whole.

The Tobacco. "Flavor Packing" plus fifteen tobaccos boost taste.

We've developed a system called "Flavor Packing" that allows us to concentrate a special patented tobacco flavorant in each Decade cigarette.

This is in addition to our special taste blend of fifteen fine tobaccos, including exotic Turkish, full bodied Burley, and Bright, a tobacco known for its smoothness.

The Filter. Unique "Taste Channel" gives first puff impact.

The Decade filter is a combination of modern laser technology, plus our own exclusive research design. Simply, we've created a channel within the filter to give you that first puff impact you've come to expect from only the higher 'tar' cigarettes. Which means you get taste from first puff to last.

The Paper. High porosity paper controls burn rate.

For Decade we use only high porosity cigarette paper. Ordinary paper inhibits the burn rate, which can diminish the taste and create the need to pull harder when you drag.

With Decade's high porosity paper however, you get an efficient burn rate that delivers optimum taste with a minimum of 'tar.'

The result. A completely new kind of low 'tar' cigarette.

So try a pack of Decade for yourself. Regular or Menthol. And after one taste we think you'll agree that our last 10 years were well worth the effort.

Regular and Menthol.

Just Ask

The tipoff:

When they get around to voting AFL - bred players into the Pro Football Hall of Fame, the only two likely to get serious consideration are Lance Alworth, the exciting receiver for the Chargers, and Jim Otto, the longtime all-pro center for the Raiders — with offensive tackle Ron Mix a long shot.

Q. Are Brian Gottfried and Larry Gottfried related? Have they ever played against each other? — B.C., Panama City, Fla.

They're brothers, but with quite an age difference, tennis-wise. Brian, who just picked up $35,000 for winning the nationally televised American Airlines Tennis Games — the biggest payoff of his career is a tested 25-year-old campaigner who won $231,075 last year and had Bjorn Borg down, two sets to love and 2-0 in the third set at the U.S. Open. Larry, eight years younger, holds the National Boys 18 title. They practice together when they're home in Florida, but, says Brian, "He's not quite strong enough to play me."

Franklin Mievi

Q. I've been having an argument with my roommate about which sport — hockey or basketball — is the faster and more vigorous. Would you please answer this question for us so we know once and for all the true answer? — Billy Wolcox, Philadelphia, Pa.

The true answer? Gulp. A considered opinion, then. They are both fast in terms of body action, but of course hockey players on their skates travel at a much faster clip. Hockey is probably a shade more vigorous — a puckster can't stay out on the ice as long as a basketball player. But the real difference is that hockey is definitely more dangerous physically, with the sharp blades, lightning speed of the puck and those collisions at full steam.

Q. When is Lou Brock of the St. Louis Cardinals expected to break Ty Cobb's all-time record for stealing bases? — T.R., Cape Girardeau, Mo.

The 37-year-old player-coach of the Cardinals is within 27 stolen bases of Cobb's career mark of 892 (that's from modern ballplayers Billy Hamilton stole 937 in the 19th century). According to Lou's own timetable, he should be within range of a new record some time in June.

Q. What reasons do Bud Grant and the other coaches of the Minnesota Vikings have on why the Vikings can't win the big one? — Butch Campbell, Philadelphia, Pa.

Don't laugh. They used to say the same thing about Don Shula and the Baltimore Colts, Tom Landry and the Dallas Cowboys and John Madden and the Oakland Raiders. A more positive way to look at it is this: how many other teams have played in the Super Bowl four times? The answer: none. Somewhere along the line, to get there, the Vikings had to win some "big" games. I think Grant's record is remarkable.

Q. Why are the California Angels switching Bobby Grich, a Golden Glove second baseman when he was with Baltimore, to shortstop, especially since they still have Dave Chalk, who played shortstop last year? — P.S., Anaheim, Calif.

Because Chalk, who made the all-star team as a third baseman, didn't do well last year, particularly at bat, when switched to short. And everybody forgets that Grich originally came up to the majors as a shortstop but was switched to second because the Orioles already had Mark Belanger. The Angels hope that Chalk, now competing with Ron Jackson for the third base job, can recover his old form.

Q. How old are Bob Hewitt and Frew McMillan, who certainly have to rank as one of the greatest tennis double teams in history? What makes them so good? — B.P., Garland, Tex.

McMillan, the one in the white cap, is approaching 35. Hewitt is 37. They both play out of South Africa, though Hewitt is an Australian by birth. Almost innocuous as singles players, they're devastating as a doubles team — as they proved again recently at Palm Springs in the Grand Prix event — because they realize that brand of tennis calls for team play and self-sacrifice and court rapport.

Got a tough question about sports and the people who play them? All you got to do is ask Murray Olderman. Write him in care of The Times, P.O. Box 607, Pleasanton, 94566. The most interesting questions will be answered in this column. Olderman regrets he cannot write personal answers to all the questions.

Parting shot:

No matter what happens to the sale of the San Francisco 49ers, Franklin Mievi blew it. He had them in his scraggly beard for a price which is $6 million cheaper than what it's going to cost to buy them now. But Franklin just wouldn't dig deep (he had the resources) to buy them last fall.

Finley ties in Kuhn, A's move

CHICAGO — Charlie Finley, Oakland's maverick owner, said Monday he now believes Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn voided his sale last year of three players for a total of $3.5 million because Kuhn wants to put the A's in Washington.

"It didn't dawn on me at the time," Finley said in a telephone interview, "but I'm getting to see it all now. He didn't give a damn about my losing money or the players or the Oakland franchise. It was always in the back of his mind to put a team in Washington and he wanted a strong team to go there."

"He's got himself in a bind and I'm not going to pull his chestnuts out of the fire," Finley said gleefully, referring to Kuhn's long-standing promise to place a team in the nation's capital.

Finley's comments followed reports that a group of American and National League owners are trying to buy the A's from Finley, switch the franchise from the American League to the National League and move it to Washington, D.C.

"That," said Finley, "is a continuation of Bowie Kuhn's personal vendetta to get me out of baseball."

Finley said he realized what was happening when he read the agenda of a special joint meeting of the major leagues scheduled for March 24 in Tampa, Fla.

"I have not been approached on the matter by anyone but the agenda for the meeting gives me an idea of what's going on. The first item is franchise matters and it is underlined. Under that it says 'A-Franchise relocation matters' and 'B-Realignment into two 13-club leagues.'"

"They must have somebody in the American League in mind because the American League has 14 teams and the National League 12," Finley said. But, he added, "my ball club is not for sale."

Finley said the items involving franchise matters have been proposed by the commissioner and approved by the two league presidents.

"Remember the winter meetings at Los Angeles when someone wrote a story about moving the A's to Washington?" said Finley. "You know what the great commissioner said then? He said 'I wish it hadn't leaked out.' And there I am, the owner of the club and nobody saying anything about it to me."

Finley presently is awaiting a decision from Federal Judge Frank J. McGarr on his $3.5-million suit against Kuhn. Last summer at the trading deadline, Finley sold outfielder Joe Rudi and pitcher Rollie Fingers to the Boston Red Sox for $1 million each and pitcher Vida Blue to the New York Yankees for $1.5 million.

Kuhn voided the deals on the grounds that they were "not in the best interest of baseball." The trial lasted 15 days and attorneys for Finley and Kuhn filed their final briefs Feb. 28.

Finley also recently sold pitcher Paul Lindblad to the Texas Rangers for $400,000 without consulting with the commissioner's office shortly after Kuhn had issued a notice that all major sales of players must be cleared by his office.

Kuhn then called a special meeting on the matter and approved the sale although Finley kept objecting that it was none of Kuhn's business.

Stockton eliminates Tri-Valley pucksters

It's pretty hard to be original in describing the way Stockton eliminated Tri-Valley from the Northern California Hockey Association Junior division play-offs Sunday at Dublin, Ireland.

There was the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat. Neither team did deserve to lose. But one had to, and did, after 23 unplanned minutes of play.

Stockton took a fairly routine 2-1 win in the scheduled contest. Routine, that is, until T.V.'s 5-4 win at Stockton Saturday night is taken into consideration. The play-offs are decided on a total-goals basis, so the visitors had to win by more than one goal.

Which they were doing just ten seconds were left in the third period of regulation play.

At that point, with Tri-Valley goalkeeper Lloyd Kristof pulled for an extra skater, Dave Baxter chipped a pass to John Hanlon in front of the Stockton crease and the defenseman poked in his fifth goal of the season to tie the series at six goals per team.

That set up a sudden-victory situation for the right to move into the final round of the NorCal play-offs.

Tri-Valley outshot Stockton 12-11 in the first, frantic, 15-minute period, but it was Kristof who kept Tri-Valley alive.

Kelly Smees, who scored both Stockton goals in the scheduled game, got a pair of breakaways, but his ubiquitous slap shot met little success as he was first tied up by Yarmo Kaksonen and had a second repelled by Kristof's raised stick.

Lloyd did the same to a breakaway slap by Atushi Agari and made the play of the evening in the closing seconds of the period on another sprint by Agari.

The Colt center stick-checked the puck away from the hosts listless offense and skated completely into the clear with plenty of time to beat Kristof.

But Kristof slid out nearly to the blue line on his belly to smother the puck before Agari could get his shot away.

In the second overtime, however, Stockton had its own way.

Jim Hicks missed from point-blank range, Henry Dias hit the post from the left angle and, with both teams short-handed most of the period due to hostilities between Baxter and the Colts' John Crothers, Stockton outshot the local side, 15-5.

The inevitable finally came with 8:23 gone as Shane Johnson cracked home a slap shot, unassisted, from the left point.

Tri-Valley's Mite AA side was also eliminated Sunday. After falling behind, 4-3, Friday at Iceland, the primary-graders dropped a 4-2 match to Sacramento in the capital Sunday.

Frank Blanas scored one goal off an E.J. Rankin assist, while Brian Schaeffer got the other on a double assist from Gaylin Barrow and Blanas.

Two goals by Sacto's Kevin Boeh came off rebounds of breakaway shots to provide the winning margin.

In peewee action, Tri-Valley made it to the finals with a 4-4 tie of Berkeley. Coming into the game, all the locals needed was a tie or win.

Shawn Picotte scored two goals to rally Tri-Valley from an early 2-0 deficit, including the tying goal just before the end of the contest.

Tri-Valley won the two-game series on total goals, 10-9, as in overtime the teams were tied 9-9 after regulation play.

Patterson leads Trinity five

Low Patterson scored 11 points to help Trinity Baptist erase a 15-13 halftime deficit and go on to a 31-23 win over Wells in Tri-City Mens Basketball action last week at Camp Parks.

Jeff Jones added seven markers for the winners, while Wayne Jackson scored 13 points in a losing cause.

The league-leading 76ers raced out from a slim 13-8 halftime advantage and roared to a 42-21 win. Rick Anderson netted ten points to lead the winners, while John Stebbins scored eight. John Overby led Valley Christian with 12 points.

Ideal Drayage received 14 points from Jim Ward while Mike Mueller added ten and Dave Sparmen ten in a 48-37 win over Allied Brokers. Bart Moore scored 14, Jake Stafford ten and Gary Purnell eight for the losers.

Nazarene's "B" squad eked out a 53-51 overtime win over Acme Trophies. Gary Bail led the winners with 21 points while Bob Austin scored ten and Don Jenkins eight. Acme had four players in double figures: Dave Woy (ten), Kurt Rohren (11), Dick Thurlow (12) and Bob Galant (10).

Mike Radcliff scorched the nets for 21 points in leading St. Augustine's past Oakland Art, 58-46. The winners broke away from a slim 23-22 halftime lead behind the scoring efforts of Bob Swift (14 points) and Dennis McGrath (12), while the losers were led by Kory Porter, who bagged 15 points, and Duane Forget with ten. Ed Soong added nine for Oakland.

Bell rings for two

Virginia Tech's Ron Bell (22) aims for the basket Monday Night as Alabama's Anthony Murray tries in vain to block shot during quarterfinals game in the National Invitational Basketball Tournament in New York's Madison Square Garden. Alabama win, 79-72.

Portland cools 'Quakes

Soccer has taken San Jose Earthquake head coach Gabbo Gavric to a lot of places and put him in a lot of situations.

After Sunday's 1-1 tie-breaker loss to Portland at Livermore Valley Stadium, you can be sure there's at least one scene he'd rather not play again — sudden-death on a rodeo ground.

Ninety minutes of soccer and five rounds of the North American Soccer League's new "shootout" overtime had both failed to decide the exhibition, so it came down to sudden-death in the tie-breaker.

The Timbers' Tony Betts lured 'Quake goalie Mike Hewitt out of his cage. Hewitt dove, missed, and Betts shot wound up in the upper left corner of the net.

Up stepped rookie Greg McKeown for San Jose, who had scored the 'Quakes lone regulation goal.

He dipped, he faked, he stutter-stepped and, finally, the allotted five seconds about to expire, he shot — and the ball careened crazily off the ground, sending one of Livermore's finest scampering from his post 15 yards wide of the cage.

"The ball hit something out there," the bamboo-thin McKeown claimed. "A rock, a dirt clod, I don't know," he guessed, laughing at a ballboy's suggestion that the problem was simply that it had hit Greg's foot.

Gavric agreed. "The bumpy field created a problem, on that last one the ball just bounced the wrong way," he said. "I like coming out to this area, but I don't like the field. It makes it tough to get anything going."

Johnny Moore, one of the founding fathers of local youth soccer (for which the game was a benefit), pointed out that the field's condition had a lot to do with the erratic action of the game.

"The ground is very, very hard," he began. "Portland's a physical team, but they do have some skillful players. Betts and Stewart Scullion would have played a better game on a smoother field."

No one had any qualms about the "shootout."

"It's a tough way to lose," said Moore. "But the people seem to enjoy it." Gavric added, "It worked out well for us in L.A. and I still think it's better than what we had (a strait-laced penalty shot exchange)."

Portland had three chances to score in the first half and the Earthquakes countered with a pair of unsuccessful thrusts.

For the Timbers, muscular Clyde Best blasted a shot off the cross-bar five minutes into the game and in the later stages, Hewitt needed a couple of spectacular slap-saves to ward off shots by Ike MacKay and Willie Anderson.

San Jose had a couple of breaks going, but couldn't cash. Mark Liveric turned play in from the left corner and launched a centering pass to wide-open Ilija Mitic; Liveric failed to lead the 36-year-old scoring king, however, thus Mitic's shot lacked power.

Thirteen minutes before intermission, Mitic centered one for Tibor Molnar, whose lackluster shot squirmed into the arms of diving Portland goalie Graham Brown.

After Scullion put Portland in the lead with an angle shot from the right corner of the goal area, San Jose came to life, but whisties held the 'Quakes to a tie with the Timbers, whose bland green uniforms included no numbers and no lettering.

McKeown stole a throw-in from Terry Alcock to goalie Brown, who promptly fell down, leaving the 165-pound rookie the relatively simple task of dribbling around the body and punching the ball past defender Chip Smallwood for a 1-1 tie with 78 minutes gone.

McKeown beat Brown on a later one-on-one, but the play was called back for an indirect kick due to a Portland foul.

In the "shootout" for Portland, Anderson lost his dribble, Scullion didn't get his shot off on time, Alcock scored on a choppy bounce and Ray Martin had his dribble plucked away by the alert Hewitt.

For San Jose, Mitic dribbled right into Brown's sliding rejection, Mani Hernandez' left-footed was punched away, Laurie Calloway's blast was elbowed out of the way and Paul Child got behind Brown to ground home the shot that set up sudden-death.

McKeown, who gained favor with the crowd of 5200 despite the missed tie-breaker and the fact that much of the crowd believed he was actually, as his jersey proclaimed, Miro Pavlovic, is feeling at ease in the NASL.

"I've adjusted really well," the veteran of the University of San Francisco's NCAA championship team said. "Breaking into the team was easier than I thought and there haven't been any real surprises."

"I went into this with a very positive attitude, it's something I've wanted to do all my life."

Brewers shutout Oakland, 2-0

SUN CITY, Ariz. — Sixto Lezcano singled home a run and later scored to lift the Milwaukee Brewers to a 2-0 exhibition victory over the Oakland A's Monday.

Bill Travers, rookie Bryan Haas and Ken Sanders combined to pitch a nine-hit shutout for the Brewers, who executed four double plays. Travers, who has had a sore knee, allowed four hits and a walk in three innings, his first outing of the spring. Haas gave up two hits in three innings and Sanders three in three.

Cecil Cooper opened the Brewer fourth with an opposite field triple to deep left center against a strong wind. He scored on the hit by Lezcano, who then stole second and came home on a single by Mike Hegan off loser Tom Bradley.

Sports in brief

Russ, Reynoldson lose in finals

zanne Russ and Ron Reynoldson dropped their doubles final match in the Tennis Town Senior tournament, the big news came from unseeded men's singles.

Carl Carroll, who upset top seed on Saturday, defeated the number seven seed Carl Norgauer, 6-4, 6-3, to capture the men's 35 singles championship.

Russ and Reynoldson, meanwhile, lost to champions Evelyn Robards and Pat Miller by a score of 6-2.

In the Women's singles event, Arlene Cohen topped Susan Anawalt 7-6, 6-4 to take the title honors while Cohen and Anawalt teamed up later to take the doubles competition with a 6-3, 6-2 beating of Diane Gai and Jeanne Olsen.

In Mens 45 Singles championship match play, Eldon Rowe rolled to a 1-6, 6-3, 6-2 win over Clint Arbuckle. Arbuckle later doubled up with Joe Woolfson to win the doubles event with a 6-3, 6-4 win over Doug Markel and Phil Polenske.

In the Men's 35 doubles finals Cliff Barrett and Ray Sampson topped Tim Arnstein and Hajd Leum 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

AquaCowboys

The Livermore AquaCowboys swim team brought home four ribbons out of ten who participated among a total of 4,000 swimmers entered in a Class "A" meet held last weekend at College of Marin.

In a Senior meet at Santa Clara, three swimmers placed in events. Patti Fink splashed to first place in the 15-18 girls 50 free to lead the entrants, while Beth Rivenes and Amy Leider also placed among the top finishers in their events.

Swimmers improving their times were Denise Nelson (50 back and 100 IM), Julie Halasz (100 breast), Tricia Caravacho (100 IM and 100 back), Mike Ruffner (100 breast), Lex Johnson (100 breast), Lynn Cutting (100 back), Lori King (100 back), Marlene Westerman (50 free, 100 back and 100 free), and Beth Rivenes (500 free, 100 fly, 400 IM and 200 back).

Jackie Ellis, Kris Franklin, Susan Hoppe and Steve

Ruffner were the swimmers entered in the Santa Clara meet.

Watson leads

Club Champion Robert A. Watson heads Castlewood Country Club's four man team in the Northern California Golf Association's Zone playoff on the Monterey Peninsula's famous Spyglass Hill Golf Course on March 31 and April 1.

Watson was an automatic qualifier to the zone teams by virtue of his 1976 victory in the Club Championship.

Earning berths on the team were Mike Cooney on net rounds of 68 and 67 for a 135 total in the 36-hole qualifying. Tying for the last two spots on the team were Dick Kraft and Lyn Dickinson on identical rounds of 55-72 for 137 totals.

Trudeau hot

NEWARK — St. Charles' eighth-grade Catholic Youth Organization basketball team defeated St. Edwards in overtime, 40-38, in recent action at the Newark High Invitational Tournament here.

Jack Trudeau led the winners with 24 points, while Mark Wagner netted seven and Kent Swafford five. Bob Peterson topped all rebounders.

St. Charles reached the semi-finals by whipping Assumption 36-23, as Trudeau pumped in 19 points. Kevin Trudeau scored seven and Steve Johnson had five to back the winners.

In the finals of the tournament, Corpus Christi of Fremont edged St. Charles 43-39.

Beep baseball

Debbie Chandler and Ricky and Diana Edwards are enthusiastic players for the Pleasanton Warriors, a baseball team for the visually handicapped. Using balls that beep, the Warriors will begin weekly games against other valley Beep Baseball teams beginning Saturday, March 19 at the Pleasanton Elementary School. For more information call 846-6103.

Fairly's chat with Charlie just a brief intermission

DUNEDIN, Fla. — Ron Fairly didn't stay in Oakland long enough to establish a speaking acquaintance with Charlie O.

"I was in camp about two weeks," the portly National League veteran said Monday at the bustling training quarters of the expansion Toronto Blue Jays. "Charlie Finley picks up the phone and calls Peter Bavasi.

"Are you interested in Fairly?" Charlie says. "I'd like somebody to take him off my hands."

That's probably not the way it really happened but here is baseball's 38-year-old symbol of unexciting steadiness trying to extract some magic eternal youth potion from a mixture of veterans and wide-eyed kids with strong arms.

To some, the move might be damaging to the morale — a discard, playing his final years with a new, developing team that's going nowhere.

Not to Fairly. To him, it's a reprieve and a new opportunity.

"I guess I am one of the luckiest guys alive," he said. "If I'd stayed in Oakland, I would be playing on natural turf with a team that's riddled with controversy. Now I'll be going to a new city, a new stadium with Astroturf where the fans and organization are 100 per cent behind me.

"How many guys do you know who hate their jobs? I am still doing something I love."

Baseball has turned full cycle for the red-haired native of Macon, Ga., who played 11 years with the Los Angeles Dodgers, five with Montreal and two with St. Louis before going to the A's late in 1976.

"I started with (Toronto Manager Roy) Hartsfield with Des Moines in the Western League," Fairly said. Hartsfield is from Atlanta, so both speak with a Jimmy Carter accent.

"I was impressed with Ron the first time I saw him," Hartsfield said. "He had a short hitting stroke, but he hustled and could run. I hope we're together 10 more years."

Fairly only has to go four to gain entrance into an exclusive club — men whose careers have touched four decades. There have been only four in the game's long history — Early Wynn, Mickey Vernon, Bobo Newsom and Ted Williams.

Strikes of discord in 76er camp

PHILADELPHIA — The talent-laden Philadelphia 76ers were supposed to march right to the National Basketball Association championship. Woes, however, keep raining on their parade.

The boiling pot of discontent bubbled again Sunday when the 76ers lost to the Chicago Bulls at home. They're still in first place in the Atlantic Division with a 39-27 record, but the harmony is lost.

Guard Lloyd Free wants to get out. Julius Erving's wife has become a critic and Coach Gene Shue has spread himself thin trying to keep the lid on.

"I don't want to play any more," said Free, a 6-foot-2 guard whose playing time has been fluctuating.

On Friday, he pumped in 25 points in the 34 minutes he played in a victory over Seattle. On Sunday, he played 13 minutes and scored only four points.

"I'm tired of being insulted," Free said, referring to Shue. "He's taken my entire game away. Playing me. Sitting me. Playing me. I ain't no yo-yo."

"There's a lot of teams out there that want me. Trade me and I'll be happier," he said.

Before Free's diatribe, Dr. J's wife, Turquoise, took a swipe at the 76ers in a copyrighted article in the New York Times.

"They're in first place because of their talent. They're not there because they're playing like a team," she said.

"You think they're out there trying to win? Sure.

some want to win. And some don't. A team is supposed to be like a family. And this team is playing like individuals," she added.

Dealing with unhappy players is hardly the thing Shue needs while preparing for the playoffs.

"It's not an ideal situation. But I'm prepared to accept the problems provided we win," he said.

"Ideally, the makeup of our team should include eight players who are reasonably talented. Then, you fill in the nine to 12 spots with guys who are happy to be here provided they have a role and can help win certain games," Shue added.

"I can find no fault with a player if he's unhappy because he's not playing more," he said, taking the philosophical approach.

The situation is really taking away from the team.

"The way we've played lately, showing promise some times and other times looking very confused and disoriented, I'm not happy about that. But you have to be somewhat satisfied with our overall record," said Erving.

"We've overcome skepticism, pessimism, the media on our backs, players on one another's backs, and we've been able to come together. We have never lost three in a row. That's important," he added.

Dons drop Eagles

Although not landing a single player under the 40 mark, Amador's golfers nevertheless came away with a 215-220 win over

American in non-league golf play yesterday at Castlewood Country Club in Pleasanton.

American's Steve Ruiz was the medalist with a 38, but Av's pair of Greg McAvoy and Keith Olsen fired 40's to lead the balanced Don attack.

Frank Mona of Amador and American's Mike Lemon followed Rick Burns shot a 45 for the Dons, while Paul LeClaire finished at 47.

American's final three golfers were Pete Carlson (43), Marty Olson (45) and Ed White (51).

Gaels fall at DV links

WALNUT CREEK — Dublin's golf team failed miserably on the back nine of this city's golf course and dropped a 209-239 non-league decision to host Del Valle here yesterday.

Bert Beuhler paced the winners with a 38, while Kurt Keluba's 41, a pair of 43's from Eric Hansen and Brian Smith and a 44 from Tom Shipley rounded out the solid first five of Del Valle.

Dublin placed a trio at 45: Mike Davis, Dan Russell and Charlie McIntyre, while Rusty Allen and Finley Boag carded 52's to complete Dublin's first five golfers.

Getting elderly back to school

DANVILLE— You're never too old to go to school! According to senior citizens in the San Ramon Valley and Community Services recreation supervisor for the senior citizens, Gay Lucas, the seniors of the Valley will have the same opportunity to attend extra curricular activities that district students do.

With the new "gold card" options recently made available to senior citizens by the San Ramon Valley School District, they may now go to student activities for the same admittance that is given to student discounts.

In the first part of 1976, the Community Center and the Danville - Alamo Committee on Aging set up a "Gold Card" program inviting area merchants to participate in offering special services and discounts to senior citizens in the Valley holding a gold card.

The school district is now following the business community's example and invites senior citizen gold card holders to all school activities at the four high schools; Monte Vista, California, San Ramon, and Del Amigo— at the same discount prices the students receive.

Older community members can now participate with the "younger generation," cheer their favorite high school team to victory, and watch their grandchildren act in a play, participate in a speech tournament, or perform in a jazz ensemble.

"The seniors are reacting very positively to the recently offered opportunity and there is a great deal of enthusiasm among the 200 area card holders," Lucas said. "The good thing about the new aspect of the gold card is that the seniors can now share their grandchildren's educational experiences and at the same time for those that are relatively immobile and can't attend plays and music productions elsewhere; they now have access right here in their own community."

Seniors may obtain gold cards at the Community Center or the local Committee on Aging. For more information on school district activities, call the district offices at 837-1511.

LIVERMORE — Because Granada High principal Jack Snodgrass has been ill, a report on the controversial high school program won't be given at tonight's school board meeting as planned.

The many parents who were going to show up at the meeting to discuss

Granada have been asked to wait until the report is rescheduled, probably for mid-April. At the March 8 public meeting, a group of parents had presented their position paper on Granada and had asked for further discussion, fearing the school's unique Tufold scheduling system was threatened with extinction.

Tonight's agenda includes a report on the latest bad news about enrollment. The district has 457 fewer students than they had a year ago. Since income is based heavily on enrollment, the budget will have to be cut back by several hundreds of thousands of dollars — a fact that began to be apparent last fall.

However, the district will be able to apply money from the sale of land on Olivina Avenue to the operating budget. In addition, the district is due to collect noise abatement funds that were to have been applied to Green School, which is being closed down, and federal funds in lieu of taxes from the Lab.

Another money matter up for approval tonight is adoption of management and teachers' salary schedules for the current school year.

Thanks to a 3.57 per cent raise this year, teachers' salaries start at $9,396 for a first-year teacher with a bachelor's degree and go up to $19,540 for 11 years' experience and a PhD. A teacher with four years of experience and a bachelor's degree plus 15 hours towards a master's makes $12,441.

The Livermore Unified School District meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Education Center, Las Positas Boulevard at Murrieta.

Dow Has New Drug

WALNUT CREEK — A new oral drug which lowers high blood cholesterol levels in adult humans was introduced March 6 by the drug's developer, the Pharmaceuticals group of the Dow Chemical U.S.A. Health and Consumer Products Department, Indianapolis, Ind.

The prescription drug, which has the generic name of probucol, is marketed under the Dow trade name of Lorelco. At present, it will be sold only in U.S.A. retail pharmacies.

In clinical trials conducted for more than eight years, Lorelco has proven remarkably free of side effects in a dosage of one gram per day, according to Dr. B.L. Martz, medical director of the Dow U.S.A. Pharmaceuticals group.

Dr. Martz added that the product represents a significant advance in management of patients with high cholesterol levels.

All the patients in the study were instructed to reduce their intake of saturated fats and cholesterol. With the combined diet and Lorelco medication, the average reduction in cholesterol levels was about 20 per cent.

Treasure trove of good taste

PLEASANTON — Go get your scissors and start clipping scrumptious winning entries of the Times annual Recipe Contest plus other interesting dishes that were submitted before the Feb. 25 deadline.

There were 17 winners chosen out of 687 responses to this year's event.

The eight categories included, snacks and appetizers, soups and stews, breads and coffee cakes, vegetables and salads, super sandwiches, meat / seafood / poultry, cookies / cakes and candies, puddings / pies and all other desserts.

Two awards were presented in each category.

The grand prize was worth $50 with over $250 worth of grocery certificates going to other winners.

The judges said there were many good submissions and decisions were sometimes difficult. Their efforts are greatly appreciated by the Times who wishes to take this opportunity to thank all of them. The Times staff realizes there could be no contest without qualified people to judge the entries.

It was a special honor to have a panel of judges that included John B. Bird, owner of The Flying Chef in Livermore; Judie Hultman, owner of the Bibere Coffee House and Bellas Delicatessen in Pleasanton; Herb Slack, manager of the Sizzler in Livermore who is also a chef and Bob Reynolds, owner and chef at Marchand's in Pleasanton.

Grand Prize—Pear Nut Bread

Ann Anderson of Dublin said she found this Grand Prize winning recipe called "Pear Nut Bread," a year ago and tried it out on her family. Her husband loved it but her four children did not.

Ann said she likes to cook and enjoys trying out new recipes.

- 2 to 3 fresh Bartlett pears
- 1/2 cup salad oil
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1/4 cup sour cream

- 1 tsp. vanilla
 - 2 cups flour
 - 1/2 tsp. salt
 - 1 tsp. soda
 - 1/4 tsp. ground cinnamon
 - 1/4 tsp. ground nutmeg
 - 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- Pare, halve and core pears, chop to make 1 cup fruit. In large bowl beat together oil and sugar until well blended. Beat in eggs, one at a time; then add sour cream and vanilla. Sift together flour, salt, soda, cinnamon and nutmeg. Add to oil-sugar mixture and continue to beat until well blended. Add nuts and pears; mix well with a large spoon. Spoon into a well-greased 9x5 inch loaf pan. Bake at 350° for one hour, or until a toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Let cool in pan for 10 to 15 minutes; turn out and finish cooling on rack. To serve, slice very thin and spread with softened butter or cream cheese. Makes 1 large loaf.

New idea takes first place

SWEET AND SOUR MEATBALLS

Edwina Watenmaker of Pleasanton said this first prize winner is the snacks and appetizer category was a fairly new recipe. She calls it "Sweet & Sour Meatballs."

"But it is one our two and a half year old son and seven year old daughter like," said Edwina. "When children like something you know it's ok."

Edwina said she likes to try new recipes and had made "Sweet and Sour Meatballs" for a large group on father's day.

"They liked it," she said.

- 1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
- 2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 2 eggs
- 4 tbsp. flour
- 1 cup oil

- 3 green pepper, diced
 - 1 1/4 cup beef broth
 - 1 1/2 cup pineapple chunks
 - 3 tbsp. cornstarch
 - 1 tbsp. soy sauce
 - 1/2 cup cider vinegar
 - 1/2 cup sugar
- Mix together the beef, 1

tsp. salt and the pepper. Shape into balls. Mix together the eggs, flour and remaining salt. Dip the meatballs in this batter. Heat the oil in a skillet and brown the meat balls over low heat. Remove meatballs and reserve. Pour off all but 2 tbsp. oil. Add the green pepper, broth and pineapple. Cook over low heat 10 minutes. Mix together the cornstarch, soy sauce, vinegar and sugar. Stir into the mixture and cook until thickened. Return meatballs and cook over low heat 5 minutes. Serves 10 to 14.

Crackers take second in snack category

AUNTIES CHEESE CRACKERS snacks, appetizers

Toni Kanovich of Dublin said this second prize winner called "Aunties Cheese Crackers" was a "hand-me-down" from her Aunt Marilyn who lives in Phoenix, Arizona.

"The recipe is several years old," Toni said. "I make it for parties or when I feel so inclined."

Besides cooking, Toni enjoys sewing, traveling and being with her two dogs, Mister and Woofers.

- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 cup (4 ounces) grated sharp Cheddar cheese
- Pinch of salt
- 1 cup sifted flour, all pur-

Pecan parts
Have ingredients at room temperature (72°). Mix first four ingredients together well, by hand. Form into a roll approximately 2 inches in diameter and about 7 inches long. Wrap with plastic wrap and put in refrigerator overnight. Next day, sprinkle cookie sheets lightly with salt. Slice dough thin (about 1/8 inch). Put remainder of dough back in refrigerator between batches. Place slices on cookie sheet, sprinkle with salt. Place a pecan part in center of each. Bake to a light brown 5-7 minutes at 375°. Yields about 40 crackers. Crackers are richer if allowed to mellow a day between baking and serving.

Ham rolls for fine starter

HAM ROLLS snack and appetizers

A delicious snack submitted by Linda L. Jones of Dublin, Ham Rolls.

- Chop finely 2 small white onion and fry in butter to golden brown. Add the following:
- 1 tbsp. minced parsley
- 1/2 cup breadcrumbs toasted
- 1/2 cup minced cooked ham
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- paprika to taste

Bind above mixture with two egg yolks beaten together with two tablespoons cream. Divide into six equal portions, placing each portion on a generous slice of cold cooked ham. Roll up in form of sausage. Place rolls closely together in a shallow baking dish, cover with cheese sauce (follows) and bake in hot oven (400°) until cheese sauce starts to bubble. Sprinkle with buttered fine breadcrumbs and set under hot broiler for a moment. Cheese Sauce: Blend 1 tablespoon flour and 2 tablespoons melted butter in saucepan. Place on medium heat and gradually add 1 cup sour cream and 1 tablespoon Sharp or Parmesan cheese. Let simmer gently 3 or 4 minutes, remove and beat in one raw egg yolk. Makes six ham rolls. Allow two per person.

Cheese pretzels

CHEESE PRETZELS snacks, appetizers

Cheese Pretzels, submitted by Bob Kroetch of Pleasanton often uses this snack with his third grade class.

- 1 cup warm water
- 2 1/2 tsp. dry yeast
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 2 1/2 tsp. sugar
- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 3/4 cups grated Cheddar cheese
- 1 beaten egg
- Kosher salt
- Selad oil

Preheat oven to 425°. Place warm water in a mixing bowl, then add yeast, salt, and sugar. Stir lightly. Add flour a cup at a time while stirring lightly. Slowly mix in the cheese. Now use salad oil and lightly oil your hands. Knead all ingredients until thoroughly mixed. Cut into 20 equal pieces. With your hands roll each piece into a 6 inch worm shape. Now you can shape the worm into a large pretzel shape. Brush each with the beaten egg, and sprinkle with Kosher salt. Bake for 15 minutes.

Super Tuna is on top

Ayn Wieskamp from Livermore said her first prize winner, in the vegetables and salad category called "Super Tuna Salad" is actually two recipes she combined to make up this one.

"I love to cook and experiment," she said. "This is a very versatile recipe. It can even be used as a sandwich spread and is especially good with unusual kinds of breads. It's also good for those watching their weight."

She said her husband and 11-year-old son like the recipe.

- 3 large carrots, grated
- 1 can (13 ounces) tuna, drained and flaked
- 1 large apple, cored and

- chopped (tossed in 1 tbsp. lemon juice, to preserve apple color)
- 1 cup minced celery
- 3 eggs, hard-boiled and sliced
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1/2 cup yogurt
- 1/2 tsp. lemon-dill or lemon-herb salad and dip mix such as Shoffeitt brand
- 2 to 3 cups sprouts
- 1/4 cup wheat germ
- Spina, Romain, or other lettuce leaves

Mix together the carrots, tuna, apple (already tossed in lemon juice), celery and eggs. Blend mayonnaise, yogurt and seasoning together and pour over tuna mixture. Add sprouts and wheat germ just before serving. Serve on plate with a bed of one type of greens — Spina, Romain, etc. This makes 4 large main dish servings.

Cranberry raspberry ring

Cranberry - Raspberry Ring Salad whipped up by Mrs. Patricia Bantley of San Ramon is scrumptious.

- 1 3 oz. pkg. each raspberry and lemon jello
- 1 1/2 cups boiling water
- 1 10 oz. pkg. frozen raspberries
- 1 jar cranberry - orange relish
- 1 7 oz. bottle (about 1 cup) 7-Up or lemon-lime drink

Dissolve the two jellos together in boiling water. Stir in frozen raspberries, breaking up large pieces with fork, add cranberry relish. Chill until cold, but not firm. Resting bottle on rim of bowl, carefully pour in 7-Up, stirring gently with up and down motion. Chill until partially set, then turn into a 5 to 5 1/2 cup ring mold. Chill until firm, about 4 hours. Unmold on lettuce and frost with the following:

- 1 envelope Dream Whip
- 1 8 oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened

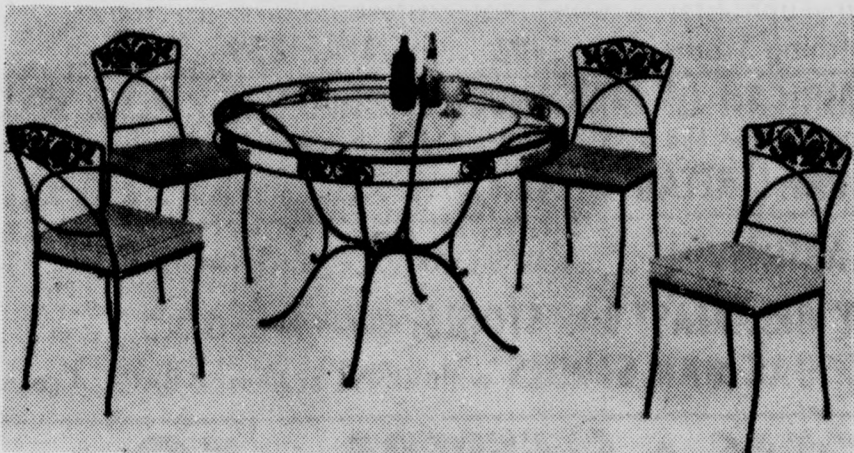

Prepare dessert mix according to directions, fold in cream cheese, spread over gelatin. Serves 8 to 10.

Hazel McKenzie

Noteworthy cherry salad

CHERRY SALAD vegetables, salads

Hazel McKenzie from Pleasanton said her prize winning "Cherry Salad" recipe is an import. It won second prize in the vegetables, salad category.

"I got this recipe from my sister who got it from a friend in New York," Hazel said. "My sister is now living in Kirkwood, Missouri which is a suburb of St. Louis. But we grew up in Malvern, Arkansas.

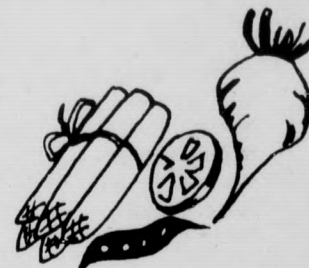

Besides making this salad for herself, her husband and friends, Hazel said she enjoys cooking, doing macrame, sewing and painting.

"This Cherry Salad is one of my husband's favorites," she said.

- 1 1-pound sour pitted cherries
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 1-pound (4 ounces) can crushed pineapple
- 1 6-ounce pkg. cherry Jello

- 1/2 cup pecans broke in small pieces
- 6 ounces Coco Cola
- 1 cup sour cream

Mix cherries, sugar, and juice from pineapple in sauce pan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly. Let boil 2 minutes, add Jello. Mix well. Remove from heat and let cool. Add crushed pineapple, pecans, and Coca-Cola. Refrigerate until partly set. Pour half of jello mixture in 9x9 pan. Spread thin layer of sour cream on top of this half, then pour other half of jello mixture on top of cream. Refrigerate until firm. Serves 12.

Baked green chiles

BAKED GREEN CHILES vegetables, salads

Beverly Davies of Dublin delicious recipe of Baked Green Chiles is zesty and good.

- 1 can (7 ounces) whole green chiles
- 2 cups shredded Monterey Jack cheese
- 1 can tomatoe soup (do not dilute)
- 13 inch baking dish

Heat oven to 325°. Slit

chiles on one side, remove seeds and membrane; lay chiles in baking dish. Stuff middle with cheese. Stir tomato soup until smooth, then spread over chiles. Bake 1/2 hour. Serves 4.

Daisy Mae DAISY MAE SPECIAL

Sandy Knott of Livermore, Daisy Mae Special salad is a real treat.

- 2 small or 1 lg. package blackcherry Jello
- 1 can blueberry pie filling
- 1 large can crushed pineapple (drained)

Dissolve Jello in one cup hot water and add blueberry pie filling and pineapple. Chill till firm.

- 1 package Dream Whip
- 1 large package cream cheese (Philadelphia)
- 1/4 cup powdered sugar

Mix Dream Whip according to package directions, add cream cheese and powdered sugar. Spread over Jello after firm. Sprinkle with walnuts on top. Serves 8 people in about 3x4 inch squares.

Casserole BROCCOLI- TOMATO CASSEROLE

Broccoli - Tomato Casserole by Janice Mickelson of Pleasanton is such a delightful dish.

- 1 clove garlic
- 1 bunch broccoli
- 2 tomatoes, sliced
- 1/4 cup Parmesan cheese
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley

Cook the broccoli in a little boiling water; drain and arrange in baking dish, rubbed with garlic. Put the tomato slices on top, sprinkle with cheese, salt, pepper, and parsley. Bake 15 minutes at 375°. Serves 6.

She's best in soups and stews

Yvonne Kroetch

Beef and Carrot Soup

BEEF AND CARROT SOUP

Yvonne Kroetch of Pleasanton said her husband and daughter, Michele, age three, usually ask for seconds when she prepares her "Beef and Carrot Soup." It won a first prize in the soups and stews category. The recipe was given to

1½ cups milk
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
Grated Parmesan cheese

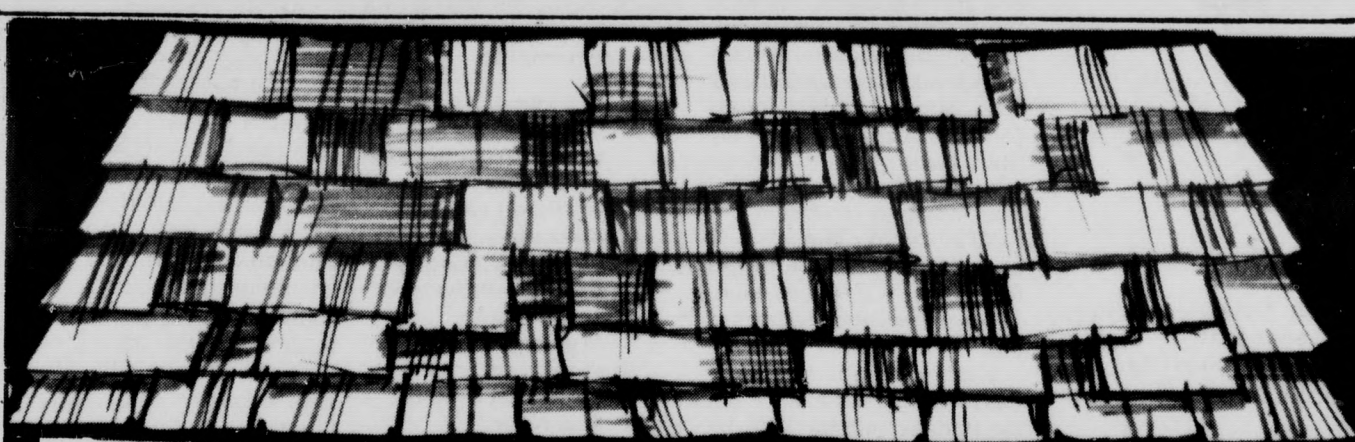

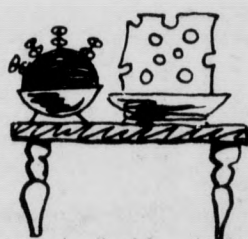

Yvonne by her mother who made it for years in her home.

"It's quick, easy and economical to prepare and I know my family is being served a delicious hot and hearty meal. Try it. I'm sure you won't be disappointed," Yvonne said.

Brown beef and onion together for 5 minutes, stirring with a fork to crumble meat. While meat is browning, heat water to boiling, then add meat, onion, pan drippings, carrot and the 1½ tsp. salt and ½ tsp. pepper. Cover and simmer for 1 hour. Melt butter in a saucepan; blend in flour until smooth, add milk, and cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and thick. Season with the ½ tsp. salt and the ¼ tsp. pepper. Just before serving stir the cream sauce into the ground beef mixture and heat until piping hot. Sprinkle 1 Tbsp. grated cheese over each serving. Serves 4.

1 pound ground beef
1½ cups coarsely grated onion
6 cups water
1½ cups coarsely grated carrots
1½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. pepper
4 tbsp. (¼ cup) butter or margarine
½ cup flour

Dumplings Chicken Broth

Ruth Vylasek nutritious and economical dish of Farina Dumplings and Chicken Broth.

2 cups milk
2 tbsp. butter
1 tsp. salt
1 cup Farina
4 eggs
10 cups chicken broth
Bring milk to boil. Add butter, salt, and Farina, and cook over low heat until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add beaten eggs to Farina mixture. Drop from tsp. into boiling soup stock. Cover and simmer 8 minutes. Serves 5 to 6.

Casserole takes 2nd

Frances Salisbury's "Beef Stew Casserole" won second prize in the soups and stews section. She said the recipe was "umpteen" years old and came from a cookbook she and other Girl Scout leaders compiled to raise money for their troop. This was done when she lived in Alameda. She now lives in Dublin.

"The recipe had been in one of the leader's families for years," Frances said. "It must be about 20 years old."

Frances said it was an easy dish to make since the meat does not have to be browned and only has to be stirred one time. She said she puts in a whole parsnip to add flavor but that it can be removed if you don't care for parsnips.

1 2-pound boneless Chuck, bite size pieces
1 pkg. frozen and cut string beans
5 carrots, cut up
6 stalks celery, cut up
2 medium onion, cut up
1 small bunch white turnips, cut up
1 large yellow turnip
3 slices bread, crumbled
1 No. 2 1/2 can tomatoes
1 tbsp. sugar

1/2 tsp. pepper
1 tbsp. salt
1 tbsp. Accent
1/4 tsp. marjoram
1/4 tsp. thyme
Pinch of rosemary
1 1/2 tbsp. corn starch

Into a 3-quart casserole, put the first eight ingredients and mix thoroughly. Remove the tomatoes from can, reserving the juice, and mix thoroughly with casserole ingredients. Into tomatoe juice, put the remaining eight ingredients and stir thoroughly. Pour this mixture over ingredients in casserole and mix. Place a bay leaf on top of all and cover casserole with lid. Bake casserole in 275° oven for 5 hours. Once or twice during cooking time, stir casserole, being sure to keep bay leaf on top. Remove bay leaf when ready to serve. Do not brown meat before putting it into casserole. It becomes a rich brown during the five hour cooking time. Serves 8 generously.

SCALLOPED MUSH ROOMS

Out of this world Scalloped Mushrooms, so tasteful submitted by Barbara J. Boyd, Livermore.

3 lbs. fresh chopped mushrooms
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup heavy cream
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/4 tsp. cayenne
3 cup shredded processed Gruyere or med. soft Monterey Jack cheese

In a large frying pan, saute mushrooms over medium heat in butter for about 5 minutes. Add cream and continue to cook until liquid is almost gone, stirring when needed. Season with salt, pepper and cayenne. Spoon mixture into a 2-quart size shallow casserole dish or 12 greased scallop shells or individual casseroles. Cover generously with shredded cheese. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) until cheese is melted and lightly browned, about 10 minutes. If you wish, garnish with whole mushroom caps. Makes 12 servings.

CLAM CHOWDER soups and stews

Pat Smith of Pleasanton all time Clam Chowder soup is always a favorite.

- 1 1/2 cups cubed raw potatoes
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 2 stalks celery, chopped
- 4 slices bacon, cut into small pieces
- Dash pepper
- 1 1/2 cups boiling water
- 1 can (6 1/2 ounces) minced clams, undrained

- 2 tbsp. butter
- 2 tbsp. flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2 tsp. parsley

Put the first seven ingredients into a saucepan, and cook over low heat until tender, approximately 20 minutes. Make a sauce of the butter, flour and milk. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Add the chowder mixture, salt and parsley. Serve at once. Serves four.

Zucchini bisque

CHILLED ZUCCHINI BISQUE

Chilled zucchini bisque a delicious dish to warm you on the cold winter night. Mrs. Richard B. Jenkins, Livermore.

- 5 medium sized zucchini (1 1/4 pounds)
- 1/4 cup butter or oleo
- 1 medium sized onion, chopped
- 2 cans chicken broth
- 1/2 cup light cream (half and half)
- 1/8 tsp. each salt and pepper
- 1/4 tsp. nutmeg
- 3 or 4 raw mushrooms sliced (or canned)

Wash zucchini, trim ends, and cut into thin slices. Heat butter in a Dutch oven, add zucchini, mushrooms, and onion, saute until limp but not brown (about 5 minutes). Add chicken broth, cover and simmer for 15 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Pour, small amount at a time, into a blender and whirl until smooth. Add cream, salt, pepper and nutmeg. Cover and chill. Serves 6 to 8. This is also delicious hot.

Italian sausage and beans

ITALIAN SAUSAGE AND BEAN SOUP

June Cramer of Livermore delicious Italian Sausage and Bean Soup can be served on any occasion.

- 1/2 pound mild Italian sausage

- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 3 cups water
- 1 pound can tomatoes (with liquid), chopped
- 8 ounce can kidney beans
- 8 ounce can garbanzo beans
- 1/2 cup dried split green peas
- 1 bay leaf
- 1/2 tsp. anise seeds, crushed
- 1/2 tsp. fennel seeds,

- crushed
- 2 tsp. dried basil
- 1 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1 cup shredded Swiss chard

Remove casing from sausage and cook in soup pot until it loses its red color. Drain off excess fat. Add onion and garlic and simmer 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients, except chard. Simmer, uncovered, 40 minutes. At this point you may transfer to a slow pot cooker and let simmer on low for the afternoon. (Even better is made a day ahead to this point and reheated.) Add chard, if desired and cook 3 minutes more.

Congratulations to the winners of this Fine Contest! May we test and enjoy the many intriguing recipes given by the artists from the most important room in the house.

The Flying Chef was lucky to be chosen to be amongst the judges to help select these entries. I was impressed by your fine work.

A few hints for next year's submissions. Your recipes are to convey to the reader the technique, accuracy and enthusiasm of the cook. "Cook until done seven artichoke hearts, 1 1/4 C salt water." Hearts from a jar? Weight? Frozen? Brand name? People don't know, so let's tell them. Secondly, inform your audience of your serving dish size, garni, and your own touches.

Good luck next year, and stop in and talk cooking.

Crab for top sandwich

CRABMEAT SANDWICH PUFF super sandwich

Jan Hill of San Ramon said her "Crabmeat Sandwich Puff" was a recipe she found about four years ago.

"And I altered it to improve on it," she said.

She won first prize in the super sandwich category with her entry.

She said it was great to serve at luncheons, that men usually liked it as well as women and it was delicious accompanied by spinach salad.

"My husband and three year old daughter like this recipe very much."

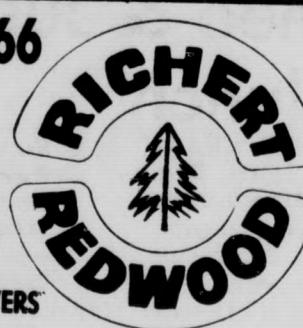

- 1 cup cooked crabmeat
- 1/4 cup chopped green onions
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- 8 slices white bread, buttered and crusts removed
- 4 sandwich, sized slices Cheddar cheese
- 3 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 1/4 cup milk
- 1/4 cup sauterne
- 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- Salt and pepper to taste

Mix crabmeat, onions, and mayonnaise; spread over 4 slices of bread. Top with cheese, slices, then with remaining 4 slices of bread. Cut sandwiches diagonally in halves; arrange in a greased baking dish (8x8x2). Mix remaining ingredients; pour over sandwiches. Let stand for an hour or more. Bake in a slow oven at 325° for one hour. To serve, separate sandwiches with a sharp knife and lift onto plates with a broad spatula. Serves 4.

Submarine whopper

SUBMARINE SMORGASBORD super sandwiches

Submarine Smorgasbord sandwiches, an all time favorite submitted by Susan Maxfield of Livermore.

- 1 loaf French bread
- 1/4 cup butter
- 1 tbsp. wine vinegar
- 1 tbsp. olive oil
- 1/4 tsp. garlic salt
- 4 crisp lettuce leaves
- 1/2 pound sliced salami
- 2 tomatoes, sliced
- Salt and pepper
- 4 ounces sliced Swiss cheese
- 1/2 pound sliced ham or bologna
- 1/2 cucumber, thinly sliced

1 large red onion, thinly sliced
Cut bread in half horizontally. Spread bottom half with butter. Mix together vinegar, oil and garlic salt. Dip lettuce leaves into mixture. Place lettuce, salami and tomatoes in layers on buttered bread. Season with salt and pepper. Place remaining ingredients on top of tomatoes. Cover top half of bread. Secure loaf with large toothpicks. Cut six serving pieces.

Romeo & Juliet for lunch

Alice Hall, whose "Romeo and Juliet," recipe won second prize in the super sandwich category, said she found this recipe during her travels. Her husband was a Master Chief in the U.S. Navy. She has had the recipe for about four years, she said.

Alice said this sandwich was good to use for a Sunday brunch.

"It is just the right sort of thing to serve along with a glass of wine."

- 12 slices enriched Italian bread
- 1/2 cup garlic butter
- 15 oz. shaved cooked salami
- 3 cups thinly sliced onion
- 3 cups thinly sliced green pepper

- 8 oz. sliced mushrooms, drained
- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) pizza sauce
- 2 cups (8 ounces) shredded Mozzarella cheese

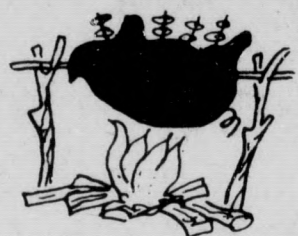

Spread one side of 12 slices of bread each with 2 tsp. garlic butter. Grill on butter side only. For each serving, arrange 2 slices of grilled bread open-faced on baking sheet, grilled side down. Saute salami lightly; divide evenly over bread. Saute onion, pepper and mushrooms together, spread over salami. Heat pizza sauce, spread over sauteed mixture. Cover each sandwich with Mozzarella cheese. Place sandwiches under broiler until cheese is melted. Serve with chilled rose wine. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Fried Kibbee Sandwich

er of Pleasanton, a tasteful
Fried Kibbee Sandwich.

- 1 pound lean ground chuck or ground round
- 1 cup regular cracked wheat
- 1 small onion (grated fine)
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 cup vegetable oil (for frying)

Wash and soak wheat 1/4 hour. Grate onion, then mix in bowl onion, salt and pepper. Drain and squeeze wheat. Mix onion mixture with the wheat. Now, add meat. Mix with hand for 3 minutes. Shape into hamburger type patties and fry until brown. Put into Arabic bread with lettuce and tomato.

Meat, fowl seafood winner

This first prize winner in the meat, seafood, poultry section of this year's Times recipe contest belongs to Judith Havlik of Livermore. She calls it "Chicken-Zucchini Flips."

"This recipe came from my mother who lived in New Jersey," Judith said. "I don't know where it came from originally. I've had it about 11 years."

She said the recipe was popular with her husband, four and nine year old sons and 10 year old daughter.

Judith likes to cook so well she has taken several cooking classes; one from Lucy Cole who studied with James Beard.

Judith Havlik

- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1/4 cup chopped celery
- 2 tbsp. butter or margarine
- 1 can condensed cream of chicken soup
- 1/4 cup milk
- 2 cups diced cooked chicken
- 2 beaten eggs
- 1/4 cup all-purpose flour
- 2 tbsp. grated Parmesan

- cheese
- 1 tsp. snipped chives
- 1 tsp. snipped parsley
- Dash of salt and pepper
- 3 medium zucchini, shredded and drained (2 cups)

In small saucepan, cook onion and celery in butter or margarine til tender but not brown. Add soup and milk; stir in chicken and heat through. Keep warm. In medium bowl, combine eggs, flour, cheese, chives, parsley, salt and pepper. Add zucchini; mix well. Drop 1/4 cup batter onto greased griddle and flatten slightly; cook til browned. Turn and brown other side. Remove and keep warm. Repeat to make a total of 8 pancakes. Spoon half the filling on one side of each pancake; fold over. Top with remaining sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Pork Chops Presidential

Anne Briley of Livermore prepares a delicious dish of pork chops presidential.

- 6 thick pork chops
- 1 large onion, minced (bout 1 cup)
- 1 clove of garlic, minced
- 1/4 cup peanut butter
- 1 tbsp. brown sugar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. curry powder
- 2 tsp. soy sauce
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- few drops hot-pepper sauce
- 1 cup water
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1 small orange, sliced
- 1/2 green pepper, seeded and cut into rings

Trim excess fat from pork chops. Render fat in skillet over medium heat, then discard pieces of fat. Brown the pork chops in the fat remaining in pan. Drain off all fat. Add onion and garlic to pork chops. Combine peanut butter, brown sugar, seasonings, water and orange juice; blend thoroughly, pour over the pork chops. Place orange slices and pepper rings over chops. Simmer, covered, 45 to 55 minutes or until chops are tender. Stir occasionally during cooking, adding a little water if needed. Makes six servings.

Ann Anderson

Pork dish captures second place

TOURTERE DE NOEL

Grand Prize Winner Ann Anderson, also placed second in the meat, seafood and poultry division with her recipe for "Tourtere de Noel."

She said she found the recipe about a year ago at the same time she found the grand prize winner "Pear Nut Bread."

- 2 lbs. ground lean pork
- 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. marjoram, crushed
- 1/4 tsp. ground mace
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 2 tbs. flour
- 2 beef bouillon cubes
- 1 cup hot water
- 1 tsp. salt

- 3/4 cup margarine
- 6 to 7 tbs. ice water
- 1 clove garlic
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley
- 1/4 tsp. ground cloves

Saute pork, onion, celery and garlic in large heavy skillet until pork is browned and vegetables are tender. Stir in parsley, 1 tsp. salt, marjoram, clove, mace and pepper. Cover and simmer over low heat for 30 minutes. Drain excess fat from skillet. Blend flour into meat mixture. Add bouillon cubes and hot water. Return to heat and bring mixture to a boil, simmer for one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and set aside. Measure two cups flour and 1 tsp. salt into a bowl. Cut in margarine with pastry blender or two knives until mixture resembles coarse meal. Stir in ice water; mix lightly. Form dough into ball. On lightly floured board, roll out one-half of dough to fit a 9-inch pie plate. Transfer to plate and trim off extra edge leaving 1/2-inch overhang. Pile slightly cooled meat mixture into pie shell. Roll out remaining half of pastry and cut 2-inch slits in center. Cover pie; fold edge of top pastry under edge of lower pastry and press firmly together. Flute edge. Brush with beaten egg, if desired. Bake at 400° for 45 minutes or until golden brown. Makes 6 servings.

Mocha Barbecued Beef

It's barbeque time! This scrumptious recipe was submitted by Ellen S. Jacobson of Livermore.

- 3 to 4 pound beef chuck roast, cut thick
- 1 cup catsup
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1/4 cup cooking oil
- 2 tbs. instant coffee
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. ground pepper
- 1 tsp. chili powder
- 1 tsp. lemon juice
- 1/4 tsp. garlic salt
- 4 dashes Tabasco sauce

With a sharp knife, score fat of meat. In bowl, combine catsup, water, vinegar, oil, coffee, salt, pepper, chili powder, lemon juice and garlic salt and Tabasco sauce. Place roast in baking dish. Pour marinade over meat. Refrigerate, covered, several hours, turning roast often. Remove from marinade; wipe excess marinade off. Reserve marinade. Cook over medium coals 20 to 25 minutes or bake in 350° oven for 1 1/2 hours. Brush with marinade occasionally during last 15 minutes of cooking. Heat marinade and pass with meat. Carve meat in thin slices across the grain. Makes 6-8 servings.

Vegetable stuffed chicken

VEGETABLE STUFFED CHICKEN meat, seafood, poultry

Bill Lathlean of Pleasanton has whipped up this delicious recipe of vegetable stuffed chicken.

Stuffing:
¼ cup oil

- 3 medium onions, chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, chopped
- 8 carrots, grated medium
- 4 stalks celery, finely chopped
- 2 parsnips, grated medium
- 2 zucchini, grated medium
- ¼ cup raisins
- ¼ cup red wine
- Salt and pepper to taste

- ¼ cup quick oatmeal
- ¼ cup flour
- ¼ cup cracker meal

Chicken:

- 3 2½ to 3 lb. frying chickens, whole
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- 2 cloves garlic, chopped
- 2 tsp. rosemary
- 2 tsp. basil

- 2 tsp. tarragon
- ½ cup red wine
- 10 mushrooms, quartered

To prepare stuffing: In large fry pan, heat oil and saute onions and garlic until soft. Add grated carrots, celery, parsnips and zucchini and continue sauteing. Add raisins, ¼ cup wine, salt and pepper. With a wooden spoon, mix in the oatmeal, flour and cracker meal in small amounts (by tablespoonful) until stuffing is thoroughly mixed and moist. Set aside.

To prepare chicken: Wash chickens inside and out. Fill inside cavity with stuffing and sew up. On the bottom of a large Dutch oven, place sliced onions and garlic. Set the chickens on the onions. Sprinkle with remaining ingredients except mushrooms. Cover and roast in 375° oven one hour. Add mushrooms and additional wine if needed and continue baking for one more hour. Uncover during last 30 minutes. Serves 10 to 12.

A great Mexican meat pie

MEXICALI MEAT PIE

Mrs. Patricia Bantley of San Ramon's Mexicali Meat Pie is a super Mexican dish for mealtime festivities.

- 10 slices bacon
- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 cup whole kernel corn (drained)
- ½ cup chopped green pepper
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- ¼ cup corn meal

- ½ tsp. oregano
- ½ tsp. chili powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. pepper
- 1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
- 1 egg
- ¼ cup milk
- ½ tsp. dry mustard
- ½ cup shredded Cheddar cheese
- 6 to 10 stuffed green olives (sliced) (black olives may be used)
- ½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce

Fry bacon until crisp,

break into large pieces. Chill ½ cup bacon drippings until firm. Brown ground beef in large skillet, drain. Stir in corn, green pepper, onion, corn meal, oregano, chili powder, salt, pepper and tomato sauce.

Prepare pie crust:

- 1 cup flour
- ½ cup bacon drippings
- 2 tbsp. corn meal
- 3 to 4 tbsp. cold water

Combine flour and corn meal. Cut in bacon drippings until mixture is the size of small peas. Form into ball. Roll out on floured surface to a circle 1½ inches larger than inverted 9-inch pie pan. Fit into pan and fold edges to form a standing rim; flute edges. Place meat mixture in pastry lined pan. Bake at 425° for 25 minutes. Combine egg, milk, mustard, Worcestershire sauce and cheese. Spread on pie. Top with olives and bacon. Bake 5 minutes more or until cheese melts. Let stand for 10 minutes before serving. Serves 4 to 6.

Stuffed Steak Florentine

STUFFED STEAK FLORENTINE meat, seafood, poultry

Bev Wynn of Pleasanton submitted a delicious all time dish of Stuffed Steak Florentine.

2 one-pound pieces flank

- or round steak
- 1 slightly beaten egg
- 1 10-ounce pkg. frozen chopped spinach, cooked and drained
- ½ cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
- ½ tsp. ground sage
- ¼ tsp. salt, dash pepper
- ½ cup soft breadcrumbs
- 2 tbsp. cooking oil

- 1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
- ½ cup dry red wine
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 tbsp. flour
- ¼ cup cold water

Pound each steak with meat mallet to ¼ inch thickness. Combine egg, spinach, cheese, sage, salt and pepper; stir in breadcrumbs. Spread mixture over steaks. Starting with narrow side, roll up jelly-roll fashion; tie with string. In large skillet, brown steak rolls in oil on all sides. Place in a 10x6x2 baking dish. Combine tomato sauce, wine, onion and garlic, pour over meat. Cover with foil (or use covered dish) bake 350° oven 1½ hours or till meat is tender. Remove meat to platter keep warm. Measure pan juices, add enough water to juices to equal 1½ cups liquid. In a saucepan combine liquid, flour and ¼ cup cold water. Cook and stir over medium heat till thickened and bubbly. To serve meat remove string and slice. Pass sauce with steak rolls. Serves 8.

GREEN CHILE STEW

Warm up on a chilly night with this good home-style stew, Mrs. Ann Anderson of Dublin submitted.

- 1½ lb. lean boneless beef
- 2 Tbsp. butter
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, minced or pressed
- 2 medium-sized tomatoes, peeled and chopped
- 2 Tbsp. chopped parsley
- 1 Tbsp. paprika
- 1 tsp. each salt and thyme leaves
- ½ cup cider vinegar
- 1 can (4 oz.) diced Calif. green chiles
- 1 can (27 oz.) red kidney beans

Discard excess fat from meat; cut meat into about ¾ inch cubes. Melt butter in a 4 or 5 quart kettle over medium heat; add meat a few pieces at a time and brown well on all sides; then stir in the onion and garlic and cook until onion is limp. Add the tomatoes, parsley, paprika, salt, thyme, vinegar, and green chiles (including any liquid); stir well, cover, and simmer about 1 hour or until meat is tender to bite. (If made ahead, cool, cover and refrigerate.) Stir in the beans and their liquid, cover, and simmer 15 to 20 minutes longer or until hot throughout. To serve, spoon stew into bowls or soup plates. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Best loaf in breads and coffeecakes

OATMEAL BREAD

Inger Shaw's "Oatmeal Bread" won first prize in the breads and coffeecakes category. She has been a Pleasanton resident for five years.

"This is an old family recipe," Inger said. "I've had it myself for about 15 years. I brought it here from Minnesota. I make the recipe often since I enjoy cooking and baking. I was surprised and happy to learn I had won. It was the only recipe I submitted."

- 2 cups boiling water
- 1 cup rolled oats
- 2 Tbsp. shortening
- 1/2 cup molasses (dark)
- 2 tsp. salt
- 1 cake yeast or 1 envelope dry granular yeast

- 1/2 cup lukewarm water
- 6-8 cups all purpose flour
- 2 bread pans, size 5x9 inches

Pour boiling water over rolled oats. Add shortening. Cool, add molasses and salt. Dissolve fast in lukewarm water and add to oatmeal mixture. Add four, beating in gradually. Turn on floured board and knead until smooth-looking. Turn into a greased bowl, cover, leave in warm place, one hour, or until doubled in bulk. Shape into 2 loaves, place in greased bread pans. Cover and let rise until doubled. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 50 minutes. Yield: 2 loaves, about 18-20 slices per loaf.

Bev Wynn

Olive nut loaf finishes 2nd

OLIVE NUT BREAD

Bev Wynn of Pleasanton said she had been using her recipe for "Olive Nut Bread" for years and wasn't even sure where it and Lesley, like the bread. "I've always said I would enter one of these contests but never did. This year I made up my mind to go ahead and send in an entry."

- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup sliced stuffed green olives
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 2 Tbsp. chopped pimento
- 4 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 egg, beaten
- Cream cheese, softened

came from. It won second prize in the breads and coffeecakes category.

"My husband was in the Navy and we traveled around a lot so I think I found the recipe during that time," Bev said.

She said her husband and two daughters, Jennifer

Sift flour, baking powder, sugar and salt together. Combine milk and egg; add to dry ingredients. Stir in olives, walnuts and pimento. Bake in greased loaf pan for 1 hour at 350 degrees. Cool 5 to 10 minutes. Remove from pan. Slice thin, spread with cream cheese.

Inger Shaw

Mocha sponge cake

Mrs. W.J. Lathlean of Pleasanton's scrumptious and elegant Mocha Cloud Sponge Cake is out of this world.

- 1 Tbsp. instant coffee
- 1 Tbsp. cocoa
- 1 cup boiling water
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 3 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 6 egg whites
- 6 eggs yolks
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1/2 tsp. cream of tartar
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 1/2 cup sugar

- 1 cup walnuts, finely ground

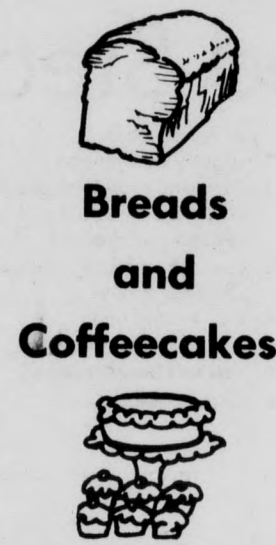

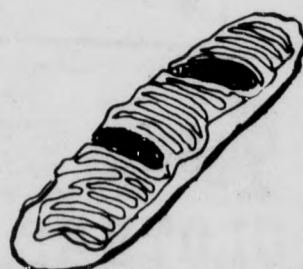

Dissolve coffee and cocoa in boiling water, cool. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until mounds begin to form. Beat in 1/2 cup sugar, 2 Tbsp. at a time, beating till stiff. Set aside. Beat egg yolks in large bowl till blended, gradually add sugar and vanilla. Beat at high speed until thick and lemon colored, 4 to 5 minutes. Add the dry ingredients alternately with coffee to egg yolk mixture. Blend well after each addition. Fold in nuts. Fold egg yolk mixture, 1/4 at a time, into stiffly beaten egg whites. Fold gently but thoroughly. Turn into ungreased ten-inch tube pan. Bake at 350 degree 60 to 70 minutes. Invert, cool.

Frosting:

- 2 Tbsp. butter
- 2 cup sifted powdered sugar
- 1 tsp. instant coffee
- 2 tsp. cocoa
- 2 to 3 Tbsp. cream or evaporated milk

Cream butter, sugar, coffee and cocoa. Add cream til of spreading consistency.

Persimmon nut loaf

Mrs. Gerald F. Rynders of Livermore's delicious Persimmon Nut Loaf has a unique flavor, and so good.

- 1 cup persimmon pulp
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup all purpose flour

IRISH POTATO PUFF

A different type of potato to pep up the meal is Irish Potato Puff submitted by Toni Kanovich of Dublin.

- 1/4 cup melted margarine or butter
- 1 cup dry bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 tsp. grated lemon rind
- 1 1/2 Tbsp. lemon juice
- 1/2 cup milk
- 3 eggs separated
- 3 cups mashed potatoes
- 1/4 cup shredded American cheese

Combine melted butter and bread crumbs; then line a nine inch shallow casserole with them. Combine mayonnaise, salt, lemon rind and juice, milk and beaten egg yolks. Add mayonnaise mixture to mashed potatoes and beat until smooth and fluffy. Beat egg whites til stiff but not dry and fold into potato mixture. Fill casserole. Sprinkle with cheese and bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes. Yield six serving.

- 1/2 tsp. baking powder
- 2 tsp. soda
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 cup walnuts, chopped
- 1 cup raisins
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Mix pulp with sugar. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt, and add to pulp mixture. Fold in walnuts and raisins. Add vanilla. Put in greased loaf pan and cover with foil. Bake at 350 degrees for two hours. This makes one loaf.

Bran cornbread

A fiber bread and so delicious entered by Mrs. G.E. Trefethen, Livermore.

Pour into greased 8"x10" pan (or 9"x9"). Bake at 400 degrees about 30 minutes or until brown.

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 cup milk
- 1 1/2 cup bran flakes

Beat eggs, add with milk and bran to shortening-sugar mixture. Let stand 5 minutes.

- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup corn meal
- 3 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt

Add to above mixture

California Beer Biscuits

California Beer Biscuits — what a delightful treat, Mrs. Frank Rezac, Pleasanton.

- 4 cups Bisquick
- 2 Tbsp. sugar
- 1 12 ounce bottle of beer

Mix together and fill buttered muffin tins 1/2 full. Bake at 400 degrees for 10 minutes or until brown. Makes about 16 large biscuits.

DILL SEED BREAD

Dill Seed Bread, so delicious when just out of the oven with that special dill seasoning. Submitted by Judith A. Havlik of Livermore.

- 1 pkg. dry yeast
- 1/4 cup warm water
- 1 cup partially creamed cottage cheese
- 2 Tbsp. sugar
- 1 Tbsp. instant minced onion
- 1 Tbsp. butter
- 2 tsp. dill seed
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. baking soda
- 1 unbeat egg
- 2 1/4 cups flour

Mix yeast with water. Warm cottage cheese and combine it into yeast and water. Then mix in other ingredients. Let rise. When doubled in size turn on floured board. Knead a few times. Let rise again in bread pan for 1 hour or until doubled in size. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 to 50 minutes.

CHICKEN ALA NINA

The following recipe utilizes tomato juice (which is ordinarily a "no-no") but may be used for a special occasion, and MUST BE CONSIDERED AS ONE FRUIT plus meat: (Save for company, o.k.?)

- 1 (12oz.) can Diet Shasta Lemon Lime drink
- 2 cups tomato juice (pure juice only - no tomato drink)
- 2 tbs vinegar (apple cider only)
- 1 tbs chopped green pepper
- 1 tsp Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tsp artificial liquid sweetener
- 1 tsp salt
- 1 tsp dry mustard
- 1 clove garlic - minced or squeezed in press
- 1 tsp mixed Italian herbs (pure spice ONLY)
- 4 large single chicken breasts (skinned and deboned)

Combine all ingredients, except chicken, in blender; whirl smooth and transfer to saucepan. Bring to boil, lower heat and simmer 1/2 hour. Arrange chicken in baking pan or casserole. Pour sauce over chicken and bake in moderate oven until tender (350°F) for about 1 hour. Baste chicken every 20 minutes to keep moist.

Cleo Seamans

Dessert time champion

STRAWBERRY SQUARES

Cleo Seamans of Livermore said this first prize winner in the pudding, pie, dessert section was a result of experimentation.

"I am always trying to find something easy to make for entertaining and I came up with these 'Strawberry Squares,'" Cleo said. "They can be frozen then taken out 15 minutes before serving and cut into squares."

She enjoys cooking for herself and her husband.

"He thinks anything I cook is marvelous."

- 1 cup flour
- ¼ cup brown sugar (light brown sugar)
- ½ cup chopped walnuts
- ½ cup melted butter

Combine the above ingredients. Spread evenly in shallow pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cool slightly. Sprinkle ⅔ of this mixture in bottom of a 13"x9"x2" baking dish. Set aside. (save ⅓ cup for topping).

- 2 Tbsp. lemon juice
- 2 egg whites
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 10 oz. box frozen strawberries, thawed partially, but do not drain

Combine ingredients in large electric mixer bowl. Beat until stiff peaks form (about 10 minutes). Whip 1 cup whipping cream, and fold into the above mixture. Spoon mixture over crumbs, in baking dish. Top - sprinkle top with remaining crumbs. Serves 12.

Popular mud pie

MUD PIE

Mrs. Beverly Eason of Livermore has submitted a recipe of Mud Pie, an all-time favorite and so good.

- ½ of 15 oz. pkg. of "Oreo" creme filled sandwich cookies

Crush and put into 12 inch

pie pan. Smooth sides and bottom. Bake at 400 degrees for 3-5 minutes. Cool.

- 1 pint coffee ice cream
- 1 pint vanilla ice cream

Mix ice cream together. Smooth into cool cookie crust. Freeze at least one hour. Pour one can (16 oz.) Hershey's Fudge topping over top of pie. Keep frozen until ready to serve. Serves 10.

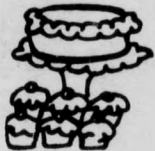

Her pie wins prize

BLUEBERRY CHEESE PIE

"It was my husband's idea for me to send in this recipe for Blueberry Cheese Pie," said Doris Rynders of Livermore. "We were so thrilled when we learned it had won. I got the recipe from an aunt who lived in the midwest." Doris's "Blueberry Cheese Pie" won second prize in the puddings, pies, and desserts category.

- 16 graham crackers
- ½ cup melted butter or margarine
- ½ cup powdered sugar
- 1 package Philadelphia Cream Cheese (8 oz.)
- ½ cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 can blueberry pie mix
- ½ pint whipping cream
- sugar to taste
- vanilla to taste
- Cherry pie mix can be substituted for the blueberry mix

Finely crush graham crackers and add melted shortening and powdered sugar. Mix together and press into a 7x11 inch cake pan. Break cream cheese into a bowl, add sugar and beat. Add eggs and beat until smooth. Spread cheese mixture over graham cracker crust and bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees. Cool thoroughly. Spread over that a can of blueberry pie mix. Refrigerate overnight. Before serving, whip cream, adding sugar and vanilla to taste. Spread cream over blueberry pie and keep cool until served. Do not freeze. Serves 8.

Fresh apple takes cake in category

FRESH APPLE CAKE AND AMBER SAUCE

This first prize winner in the cakes, cookies, candies class was a recipe Ellen Little of Livermore got from her mother-in-law who used to live in New Jersey. (She has since moved to Oakdale, California.)

Ellen says one of the best things about this "Fresh Apple Cake" is that it can be frozen for six to eight months and still be good when served warm. She said any leftover "Amber Sauce" tastes like caramel when put in a buttered dish.

- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup Wesson oil
- 2 eggs
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 3 cups flour
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- Dash of ginger and cloves
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts
- 3 1/2 cups diced apples

Date pudding

Mrs. Helen Elgin of Livermore's Date Pudding is a real old fashion treat.

- 3 eggs
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup bread crumbs (pack down lightly)
- 1 cup dates, chopped
- 1/2 cup nuts, chopped
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 3 Tbsp. melted butter

Mix above ingredients thoroughly. Pour into 9"x9"x2" greased pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Serve with whipped cream. Serves 8 to 9.

POPCORN SCRAMBLE

Patricia Witham, Dublin snack using popcorn is delicious and so easy, Popcorn Scramble.

- 6 cups freshly popped popcorn
- 2 cups rice chex
- 2 cups cheerios
- 1 6 1/2 oz. can salted peanuts
- 1/2 cup margarine
- 1 cup packed brown sugar
- 1/4 cup light corn syrup
- 1/4 tsp. baking soda
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Mix popcorn, cereals, and peanuts in a large bowl. Melt butter in a large saucepan; stir in brown sugar and corn syrup. Heat slowly stirring constantly, to boiling; cook without stirring for 5 minutes, remove from heat. Stir in soda and vanilla. Drizzle over popcorn mixture. Toss lightly until evenly coated. Spoon into a large shallow baking pan. Bake at 225 degrees for 30 to 45 minutes, stirring several times. Cool. Store in airtight container. Makes 12 cups.

Bread pudding

GRAMMA'S BREAD PUDDING

Gramma's Bread Pudding is a old time favorite submitted by Linda Parsons of Pleasanton.

- 20 slices of day old bread
- 1/4 lb. of butter
- 1 pint of half and half or cream
- 1 tsp. of ginger
- 2 tsp. of cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp. of nutmeg
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup raisins

Pour 2 cups of hot water over the bread. Let set 5 minutes then press water out. Mash the bread, melt butter in the half and half, add to bread, add the rest of ingredients. Pour into a buttered square pan. Flatten with spoon. Bake at 325° for one hour. Serve hot with ice cream or slice and serve cold. Keeps very well in the refrigerator. Serves 8.

Walnut Fudge—wonderful pie

WONDERFUL WALNUT FUDGE PIE

Wonderful Walnut Fudge Pie is so delicious and yummy, submitted by Mrs. W.J. Lathlean, Pleasanton.

- 1 9" pie shell, unbaked
- 1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
- 3 eggs
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/2 cup light cream or evaporated milk
- 1 cup broken walnut meats
- 7 walnut halves
- 1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1/4 cup white corn syrup
- 1 6 oz. package chocolate chips
- 1/4 tsp. vanilla

In double boiler top, cream together brown sugar and butter; stir in granulated sugar, eggs, salt, corn syrup and cream. Cook over hot, not boiling, water 4 minutes, add chocolate chips, stir til melted (about 1 more minutes). Remove from heat and stir in broken nuts and vanilla. Pour into lined pie plate. Bake at 350 degrees, 50 minutes. Arrange walnut halves around top. Bake 15 minutes longer. Cool on wire. Delicious served as is, or topped with whipped cream.

Second prize coffee cake

RASPBERRY COFFEECAKE

Evie Josephs doesn't recall where or when she got this "Raspberry Coffee-cake" recipe that won second prize in the cakes, cookies, candies category of this year's Times recipe contest.

"I especially like to make it when we are having overnight guests," she said.

"It's quick and easy to make and they appreciate fresh, home baked bread."

She said this coffeecake never was around long enough to think about freezing it. However, her four year old son, Trevor, said he liked it better when his mom used strawberry jam instead of raspberry.

3 oz. cream cheese
1/4 lb. butter or margarine

(blend with cream cheese)
2 cups biscuit mix (mix into butter mixture)
1/2 cup milk (mix in)
1/2 cup jam

Knead 8 to 10 times. Roll out to 12x8. Put on greased cookie sheet. Spread 1/2 cup jam down center. Make 2 1/2 inch slits (cuts) 1 inch apart along sides. Fold these over filling. Bake 425° for 12 to 15 minutes. Drizzle with icing:

1/2 cup sifted powdered sugar
1/2 tsp. vanilla
Milk (enough to make it drizzle)

Strawberries on cheese pie

CHEESE PIE WITH STRAWBERRIES

Cheese Pie with Strawberries, the recipe of Alice E. Hall of Pleasanton, is scrumptious.

9" graham-cracker crust (below)
2 pkgs. (8 oz. each) cream cheese
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup orange juice
2 Tbsp. lemon juice
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1 1/2 cup sliced fresh strawberries
Currant Glaze (below)

Graham-cracker crust: Combine 1 1/4 cups fine graham-cracker crumbs, 2 Tbsp. sugar, stir in 6 Tbsp. melted butter. Press firmly on bottom and sides of 9" pie pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 8 minutes. Chill. Cream cheese until soft add sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Blend in orange and lemon juices until smooth. Soften gelatin in cold water, then dissolve over low heat. Cool and beat into cheese mixture. Pour into crust and chill until firm.

CURRENT GLAZE: Melt 1/2 cup red currant jelly in small sauce pan over low heat, stirring constantly. Cool. One hour before serving arrange strawberries over top, spoon glaze over berries and chill not more than one hour. (If chilled too long, glaze will draw juice from berries, producing a running topping.) Eight servings.

PEANUT PIE

Anne Briley of Livermore's delicious Peanut Pie is out of this world.

1 cup light corn syrup
1/4 cup sugar
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 cup chunky peanut butter
1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Combine corn syrup, sugar, eggs, salt and peanut butter; blend well. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake 15 minutes. Reduce oven heat to 350 degrees, bake pie 25 minutes or until filling is almost set in center and crust is browned. Cool and serve. Makes eight servings.

BLACKBERRY CREAM PIE

Denise Meiller of San Ramon's Blackberry Cream pie sounds delicious.

1 cup sugar
1 cup dairy sour cream
1/4 tsp. salt
4 cup fresh blackberries or one 16 ounce pkg. frozen
1 9 inch unbaked pastry shell
1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 Tbsp. sugar
1 Tbsp. butter

Combine one cup sugar, sour cream flour and salt. Place blackberries in pastry shell. Spread sour cream mixture atop. Combine bread crumbs remaining sugar and butter, sprinkle atop. Bake at 375 for 40 minutes. Serves 6.

Watergate Cake

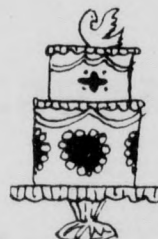

Rich and full of nuts is Cleo Semans of Livermore's Watergate Cake.

1 box (3-1/4 oz. Jello brand) Pistachio instant pudding mix
1 box (18 1/2 oz.) white cake mix
1 cup vegetable oil
3 eggs
1 cup ginger ale
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1/2 cup coconut

Combine the above ingredients, in electric mixer. Bake in 9"x13" ungreased pan for 35 or 40 minutes. Cool. Then frost with the following.

2 envelopes Dream Whip
1 box Pistachio instant pudding mix
1 1/4 cup milk (cold)

Beat until of spreading consistency and spread on top of cake. May be kept in refrigerator, covered with foil for several days. Serves 12 to 16.

The standby—cheese cake

Everyone loves Cheese Cake and this is too good to pass up, submitted by Dianne Thaemert of Livermore.

1½ cup graham cracker

crumbs
¼ cup powdered sugar
1 tsp. allspice (ground)
¼ cup melted butter

Combine all ingredients, spread in bottom of a 9-inch pie pan, pressing some of crumbs up sides.

2 8 oz. pkg. cream cheese
2 eggs, slightly beaten
¾ cup sugar
2 tsp. vanilla

Beat cheese until soft and creamy. Add other ingredients, beating until thoroughly creamed and smooth. Pour into crust. Bake in 350 degrees oven,

20 minutes, then top with sour cream layer:

1½ cup sour cream
¼ cup sugar
2 tsp. vanilla or rum extract

Combine all ingredients. Spread over cheese layer. Return to oven and bake 5 minutes. Then chill. Very rich, serve small pieces. Serves 10 to 12.

Mt. Shasta Orange Dessert

Mrs. Mathilda Maxfield of Livermore's Mt. Shasta Orange Dessert has a creamy orange flavor and is so good.

1 pint vanilla ice cream
3 large oranges
3 egg whites
¼ tsp. cream of tartar
6 Tbsp. sugar

Scoop ice cream into 6 balls. Freeze until very firm about six hours. Cut oranges crosswise in half. Cut thin slice from bottom of each half. Cut around edges and membranes. Remove fruit and membrane from orange shells. Line bottom of shell with fruit. Refrigerate. Heat over to 500 degrees. Beat egg whites and cream of tartar until foamy. Beat in sugar, a tablespoon at a time. Continue beating until stiff and shiny. Place orange cups on ungreased baking sheet. Fill each cup with an ice-cream ball. Cover ice cream completely with meringue, sealing it to edge of orange. Bake 2 to 3 minutes or until meringue is light brown. Watch carefully to prevent burning. Serve immediately. Serves 6.

DOUGHNUTS

Mrs. Virginia Woelffer of Pleasanton's delicious doughnuts (Grebel) are from a recipe handed down from her grandmother.

½ cup sugar
1 level tsp. salt
2 cups sour cream
5 eggs
¼ cube butter (melted)
4 level tsp. baking powder
5 cups flour

Mix all the ingredients together adding the flour a cup at a time to form a soft dough. Let set 4 to 6 hours or overnight. Roll out dough about ¼" thick on a floured board. Cut into squares. Fry in deep fat until brown turning with a fork to brown on both sides. Sprinkle with sugar and serve warm. Serves 6.

ANGELA PIA

Angela Pia an excellent light dessert for a dinner party submitted by Mrs. Patricia Bantley of San Ramon.

3 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar
2 Tbsp. rum
2 Tbsp. brandy
1 envelope gelatin
1 cup whipping cream, whipped
1 tsp. vanilla
¼ cup cold water

Beat egg yolks until light and lemon colored; gradually add ½ cup sugar and continue to beat until light and fluffy. Add rum and brandy. Soak gelatin in ¼ cup cold water for 5 minutes, then dissolve over hot water and stir into egg yolks. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold into yolk mixture. Whip cream stiff and add the vanilla. Fold into mixture. Pile lightly into sherbet glasses and chill 2 or more hours before serving. Makes 8 to 10 servings.
